The contest, requiring a 200-word-or-less statement, "Coin Collecting Is My Favorite Hobby Because..." is open to young people from 18 years of age and under.

There are two classifications—done for boys and girls 14 through 18, and another for those 13 years of age and under.

Honorable mention entries will win Coin World Civil War commemorative medals.

Photographs of contestants, their collection or related subjects are welcomed, but will not be included in the judging. Entry blank on page 50 of this issue may be used, or plain paper bearing contestant's name, age, birth date and address must accompany the statement.

Judges are C. C. (Tim) Shroyer, of Fremont, Ohio, next American Numismatic Association president; Miss Margaret McAuley, Atlanta, Ga., 1961 A.N.A. convention publicity director, and Q. David Bowers, of the Empire Coin Company, Inc., Binghamton, N. Y.

He set up business at The Kiddies' Shoppe, 18 N. State street, which is managed by his wife. Though he expects to do most of his business by mail, he will have a showcase for display purposes.

Brown plans to carry U.S. and foreign coins, paper money, medals, and numismatic supplies.

A coin collector for 30 years, he has been a member of the American Numismatic Association for the past two decades.

New Yorkers Buy Famed Collection

The Empire Coin Company, Inc., of Binghamton, N. Y., today announced the purchase—intact—of the collection of pattern coins formed by Major Lenox R. Lohr of Chicago.

Q. David Bowers of the Empire firm said the Lohr collection is probably the most complete assemblage of pattern coins ever formed in this country.

The collection which is worth over $100,000 contains nearly 1,200 different pieces.

Included are seven different United States mint issues of 1792 including one of the two 1792 dimes in copper with plain edge known. The other is a part of the Johns Hopkins University permanent collection.

Other acquisitions include the 1792 half dime in silver, the 1792 half dime in copper (the only known specimen), the finest known 1792 silver center cent, the exceedingly rare 1792 cent without silver center; 1792 Birch cent and the unique 1792 half eagle struck in white metal.

One observer said of the Empire purchase: "It contains the finest group of coins from the Mint's first year of operation ever assembled."

Also included in the collection are many unique or nearly so patterns and trial pieces as well as many unlisted items.

Police Seek Fred Johnson

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of missing Camden, N. J., coin dealer Fred Johnson, as claims "up around $20,000" have been reported to investigating Sgt. Harry Tracy, Camden Detective Bureau.

"We are still trying to locate Johnson," said Sgt. Tracy.

The Federal authorities have been called in and the warrant is in the hands of a federal marshal in Camden, the police official said.

Investigation turned up a quantity of unfilled orders that Johnson had received from Coin World readers, according to police. The total reported to him was "up around $20,000" Tracy said.

Johnson disappeared June 4; he was last seen entering a car. His mail had not been picked up since that date, officials noted.

New A.N.A. Voting System Gets Underway

Small, white official envelopes are flooding a Wichita, Kansas, certified public accountant firm as members of the American Numismatic Association elect their 1961-1963 officers.

For the first time in history the votes are being received and counted by an independent tabulating firm, the Arthur Young and Co. To be valid the ballots must reach the Wichita concern by August 1.

C. C. Shroyer, of Fremont, Ohio, is unopposed for the presidency of the largest coin collectors' organization in the world. He will succeed Admiral O. H. Dodson, USN (Ret.) of Detroit.

There is competition for the office of treasurer—Harold R. Klein, Hinsdale, Ill., who holds the office now, seeks re-election. He is opposed by Eldridge G. Jones, Washington, D. C.

Sixteen men aspire to the five

Board of Governors posts. They include Harold H. Berk, Warren, Ohio; Dr. C. A. Bolt, Marshville, N. C.; Raymond Gallo, New York City; Charles M. Johnson, Long Beach, Calif.; Ray O. Leftman, Kansas City, Mo.

Robert G. McArthur, Oakland, Calif.; Elmer G. Nelson, Grand Island, Nebr.; Vernon L. Oblisk, Bradenton, Fla.; John J. Pittman, Rochester, N. Y.; Matt H. Rother, Camden, Ark.

E. Ward Russell, Silver Spring, Md.; Arthur Sipe, Drexel Hill, Pa.; Ben Stocker, Detroit, Mich.; Leo G. Terry, Indianapolis, Ind.; Earl Glen Whitehead, Los Angeles, Calif.; William N. Worth, Portland, Oregon.

Rother is currently a second vice president of A.N.A. Pittman, Sipe and McArthur are seeking re-election to the Board of Governors.

P. K. Anderson, Gotebo, Okla.

now a member of the Board, is unopposed for first vice president. Herbert M. Bergen, Fullerton, Calif., is unopposed for second vice president and Lewis M. Reagan, Wichita, has no competition for the general secretary's position.

Jack W. Nannery, Brooklyn, originally declared his intentions to be a candidate for the job of general secretary, but he declined the nomination later in order to eliminate the possibility of costly transferral of the office from Kansas should he be elected.

It is a privilege and responsibility of your membership to participate in this election," urge A.N.A. election committee officials.

Shroyer and his new official corps will officially take office at the Atlanta convention of the A.N.A., to be held August 16-19.

Duane Norton Zurcher, 37, of Whitewater, Kan., an enthusiastic coin collector, leader in the Newton, Kan., Coin Club, and a prominent Whitewater businessman, drowned June 11.

Zurcher slipped off a low dam while fishing, and was pulled down by a strong undercurrent on the Fall River at Eureka, Kan.

He was owner and operator of the Zurcher Implement and Oil Co. at Whitewater. Zurcher served in the U. S. Army during World War II, and was taken prisoner by the Germans during the Battle of the Bulge.

Zurcher served as president and auctioneer for the Newton Coin Club and held membership in the Hutchinson and Wichita Coin Clubs.

Survivors include his wife, Bonnie, two sons Allen and Kent, and a brother, Bruce, of Wichita.

clude the 1836 Gobrecht with name below base and the 1838 and 1839 with starred reverses (three known of each).

The dollar patterns also include the beautiful 1872 Amazonian dollar designed by William Barber and the 1882 School girl pattern dollar designed by George T. Morgan. Many persons have considered these pattern dollars of 1872 and 1882 to be the most artistically beautiful coins ever issued by the United States Mint, according to Bowers.

The half dollar patterns include the rare issues of 1838 and 1839 as well as the seldom seen pattern half dollar of 1877. The quarter, 20-cent dime, half dime, three-cent and two-cent patterns are virtually complete.

The pattern cents, rated as "the finest group ever assembled," include a number of different 1856 flying eagle cents, the popular issues of 1858, the exceedingly rare 1863 with L on ribbon as well as such exceedingly rare items as brilliant proof Indian cents struck in aluminum of the years 1868, 1869, 1870, 1871, 1872, etc.

Among the gold coin patterns are Stellas of 1879 and 1880 and the rare Barber patterns of 1872.

Empire Coin Company plans to prepare an individually priced catalog of the Lohr collection and will send one free of charge to interested persons, Bowers said. The address is Empire Coin Company, Inc., O'Neil Building, Binghamton, N. Y. As an unprecedented offering of patterns, this catalog promises to become a permanent numismatic work for pricing and for reference, Bowers pointed out.

Conn. Police Arrest Four

Four Norwich, Conn., men under arrest by State Police in Groton in connection with a statewide series of breaks recently were accused by Bridgeport police of taking a $3,500 coin collection from a home in a burglary last April in the latter city.

Bridgeport police have lodged four suspects who are held at the State Police barracks in Groton without bond, pending Circuit court arraignment.

Under arrest are Robert Preble, 21, Paul Preble, 23, Frank Muloumy, 19, and Michael Galdu, 20.

Sgt. Clifford Carlson, of the Detective bureau, said the arrest of the four solves an April 22 burglary at the home of Benjamin Goodman, in which the $3,500 collection of coins was taken.

book, bound in heavy leather, with contents "superior", according to the judges.

Free hand art work and color photos made the Tuscarawas County Coin Club's entry a second-place winner.

Central Florida Coin Club's pictures of a display and the building where the display was housed, coupled with publicity, took third place.

Presentation of fine art work, photos and lots of publicity won fourth prize for the Arkansas Valley group.

An attractively designed entry with good material, and mounted Diamond Jubilee medals in the cover brought first prize to the Panhandle club in Class B.

An entry especially created for the occasion with excellent materials merited second prize for the Lincoln Coin Club; interesting material, good pictures won third place for the Ridge Coin Club.

A "beautiful" entry and 48 new members won first Class C place for the City of Lakes Coin Club. Judges said the second Class C winner, the Club of Illinois Numismatists, presented work "amazing and a credit to the association." The Cereal City Coin Club had good publicity and materials, the judges voted.

Ed Neuce had excellent publicity; Ted Weissbuch's entry showed a lot of work, nicely presented, and MacHugh's entry was "a nice entry, attractively presented."

Chairman Harris said of the contest in making the winners announcement:

"The major part of the entries were certainly attractive and the material nicely presented. I do wish we could show all of them at the Atlanta convention, but we are limited as to space there, so we must curtail our desires."

She added her thanks to Coin World for the publicity "generously allotted to National Coin Week in 1961."

"I found many pictures submitted had appeared in Coin World. I am most appreciative of all of you," the chairman concluded.

The first National Coin Week was held in 1924; it was introduced by Julius Gutttag, a prominent New York numismatist.

Russia has announced the publication of two books of interest to numismatists: "Catalogue of Soviet Medals, Part I" and "Our Ruble."

"Catalogue of Soviet Medals" consists of two sections. The first contains a description of 85 medals and "plaquettes" issued to commemorate events between 1917 (the year of the Bolshevik revolution) and 1960 "and also other dates of national importance."

Second section lists and describes 113 medals and "plaquettes" dedicated to outstanding Russian statesmen and public figures, artists, composers and army commanders. It also contains a list of medals made outside the U.S.S.R.

The 48-page publication was compiled by the collectors' section of the Leningrad Scientists' Club. M. Kryuchkov and P. Popov are the editors. Ten thousand copies have been printed for sale at 30 kopeks (about 33 cents at the new official rate of exchange).

"Our Ruble" is a 100-page, illustrated book by N. Metz, a Russian museum research worker. It discusses the Russian ruble in detail, giving information on a monetary reform carried out in 1534, the Copper Rebellion in 1662, and "the establishment of the first decimal monetary system in the world."

Other topics include the characteristics of the 1764 ruble, the introduction of banknotes, 19th century money, the gold standard, the collapse of the Tsarist monetary system, Soviet money, stabilization of the Soviet ruble, the 1922-1924 and 1947 monetary reforms, and the introduction of the new currency in 1961.

Forty thousand copies of "Our Ruble" have been printed. Price is eight kopeks (about nine cents).

Free Current
Price List
To Judd Book

Since the publication of United States Pattern, Experimental and Trial Pieces by Dr. J. Hewitt Judd, the popularity of this series has increased steadily and the prices of most of the items in this field have risen to an all-time high, commented Whitman Publishing Co. officials as they announced a free current price list.

Whitman feels that because the $10 price represents a substantial investment, purchasers of this book would be discouraged if they had to replace it now with a second edition showing the changes in valuations.

Whitman discussed the situation with the author and with A. Kosoff, the well-known coin dealer who assisted in the original pricing of items in the book. All agreed that the most satisfactory course of action would be to issue an up-to-date price list that could be used with the book.

Such a list has been prepared and the Whitman Publishing Co. has decided to distribute it without charge to everyone who has purchased a copy of the book.

This list uses the numbering system found in the Judd book and indicates current prices for every item that has changed since the book was published. The size of this list is identical with that of the A-W—Judd number conversion table that was given away earlier this year as an addition to the book. It fits neatly inside the book for convenience, Whitman said.

Owners of the book may obtain a free copy of the revised price list by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope to the Coin Supply Division, Whitman Publishing Co., Racine, Wis.

Club Secretary: Unsung Hero

The unsung hero at any coin club is the club secretary. No one has a more grueling job, is given more chores to do, has less time to do it, and gets less thanks and recognition than the club secretary.

Dick Johnson

ing members to pay up.

Many years ago it was recognized that the secretary's job was too much for one person. So it was divided into a recording secretary, and a corresponding secretary.

An innovation, found in a recently organized Ohio coin and gun club, is a three way division: a general secretary, a coin secretary, and a gun secretary.

Some of the regional associations, realizing what a terrific job their secretary has with a greater area and more members, pay their secretary a yearly salary. While the amount is usually small, there is some merit to this idea.

Of course, you could not begin to compensate for all the love laden hours a secretary devotes to his club duties, but a yearly salary is a start.

Other officers serve in honorary or management positions. The work horse is always the secretary.

Many clubs have their secretary serve on somewhat of a permanent basis. There is merit to this idea also. While new club presidents can come and go, a continuity is preserved by having one officer who knows the members and has the experience.

Let's pause this week, therefore, to honor our club secretaries. Let's thank them for the long hours and the devotion they give to their club. Let's appreciate what these unsung heroes do for us!

Recommended English Cat.

When Whitman Publishing Company issued the blue folders for the English penny, halfpenny, and farthing series, it touched off a number of check list publications.

We know of at least four of these check lists that were published by collectors and dealers in this country. They listed the coins in the three series, some with mintage figures, but all had prices given for only one condition.

Whether these check lists served a useful purpose until a catalog came out is an academic question.

The catalog has come out in "The Guide Book of Great Britain's Modern Coins" by H. C. Taylor and Somer James. The review of this book was published in last week's Coin World.

Full mintage figures are given. Prices are given in from four to seven conditions. The book is well arranged and easy to understand.

Catalogs on English coins were all published in England before. They are somewhat difficult to understand in their arrangement. In only two notable exceptions, could we make any kind of sense out of a three foot bookshelf of English catalogs without intensive study.

Taylor and James have performed this magical translation for us. By taking the previously abstruse information and presenting it in a catalog form familiar to American readers, they have given us a catalog we can easily use.

As with any first edition, corrections and improvements can be made. But this catalog remains highly recommended.

Letters To The Editor

How can any of your readers (all coin collectors) have any confidence in the latest coin books when they vary so tremendously in their estimate as to the worth of coins?

I go to a coin dealer and ask the price of his 30 peso gold coin of Dominican Republic. He tells me that it is priced at $80 in Friedberg's Gold Coins of the World, but I can have it for $75. When I get home and look in Modern World Coins by Yeoman; it is priced there at $55.

At an auction, the suggested price for a large gold coin of Afghanistan 5 Amani is $350, and it is so valued in Friedberg's book. In Yeoman's catalog the same coin is valued at only $50.!!

So how can one know if they are being grossly overcharged for coins, and what measure to use in bidding. Is Friedberg's book made for dealers to show customers—so that they think they are getting good buys, when in reality the price is in excess of true value?

Here is another question all your readers would be interested in: 15 years ago when the dollar was worth twice today's value, coins sold for less than they do today. As an average (if an average can be made) have coins doubled in value? Many collectors buy coins because they are interested in them and as a hedge against inflation. Are "good" coins a good investment as the dollars keep going down in value?

Sincerely yours,
Joseph Sternberg,
Newark, N. Y.

Please do not misunderstand! The undersigned does not believe himself to be a crackpot—nor has he even once before written a "Letter to an Editor"!

But what gives with this paper of yours—the first copy, of which arrived at my home yesterday?

It's a terrific example of layout, printing, good editorials and interesting articles—thus well worth the small subscription price, but...

As a "collector" of U.S. for two years (and maybe I am way out) I have been under the impression that people bought and sold and traded older dimes, quarters, halves, pennies, half-pennies, half-dimes etc. And have your advertisers heard of the two, three and 20-cent pieces?

What can be done to replace the brilliant glare from all this "junk" with the mellow lustre of fine, old collectors' items?

Richard T. Messinger
Norwell, Mass.

I agree with you completely on your editorial regarding counterfeit coins. Coin World of April 27, 1961, but if you were "shocked" and "question their profit motive" why do you accept advertisement in your paper for the same type of junk.

I refer you to page 44 of the same issue, the large ad at the bottom of the page, read paragraph three. Spurious, counterfeit, reproduction or copy, what's the difference? At least the coins on the list you received are supposed to be marked counterfeit so that one can tell at a glance what they are. In the ad in your paper they claim just the opposite.

I enjoy Coin World very much and hope you will accept this as friendly criticism.

Alfred R. Rossbach
Ashtabula, Ohio

I wish to compliment Jim Kelly on his recent article on teen-agers who collect coins. Although I am only 14, I have been collecting coins for over six years, and I can say that everything Mr. Kelly said was absolutely true.

In my case, I didn't pick up coin collecting from my parents, but they picked it up from me! Every night they let me check their change and see if there are any valuable coins in it. (I found a number of small dates that way).

When Mr. Kelly said that dealers should not take advantage of us youngsters, I remembered an incident which happened to me. Last year, (before I received a subscription to Coin World), I wanted to purchase a 1960 proof set.

Because of my age, the lowest price that I could buy a proof set for was $6. A few weeks later, when I received Coin World, I found I could buy a proof set for almost one-half of that price.

Also, do you know of any coin clubs or junior coin clubs in the Philadelphia area? I have searched and searched through Coin World looking for news of one's meeting, but I haven't seen one yet.

I also wish to thank you on your fine publication, Coin World. Here's hoping that in 1962 you will have 100,000 subscribers.

Philip Arkow
Philadelphia, Pa.

Your publication has been a very enjoyable factor in my coin collecting activities since your very early issues, and my congratulations to you.

May I comment on the recent publication you have given to the confiscation of historical papers by the State of New Mexico?

You have my complete agreement that such matter should be purchased by a state from any legal or rightful owner, but I believe it has been quite well established that the material in question in this case was purchased once in 1910, and between then and 1925 was stolen by party or parties unknown.

Do you advocate that this state should purchase them again?
Edward K. Elder
Albuquerque, N. M.

First, let me tell you how pleased I have been with the editorial and reading content during Coin World's first year. Keep up the good work. Your special editions have been outstanding in their individual areas, and I enjoy all of the regular columns.

I have not been as pleased with your advertising policy regarding mutilations and restrikes. True, some restrikes have been accepted by collectors. However, because these were struck by mint employees they have acquired a semi-authenticity. Examples include the 1804 cent and dollar.

On the contrary, many items lie outside this area. These include the restrikes of the California gold tokens, Spanish cobs, rare medals, and paper money. I would not object to the sale of this material if the word "restrrike" was prominently placed on the coin. Then the coins could be studied. I feel there is no place for these restrikes which "cannot be distinguished from the original." Please express your views on this problem.

I am sure most collectors have found mutilated coins. People performing these mutilations are probably unaware of the law against it (Title 18, sec. 331, U.S. Code). In an advertisement on page 16 of the May 11, 1961, issue, a respectable dealer offered mutilated Lincoln cents. While it is hard to believe that a dealer would offer this material, it is even harder to believe that you would accept the advertisement.

I hope all collectors will join in keeping restrikes and mutilations from becoming a part of the numismatic market.

John M. Peterson
Roscoe, Ill.

Fair To Very Fine Critical Letters Welcome, We Learn And Grow By Our Mistakes

By James G. Johnson

I read three letters this week which stood out above the other hundred or so that have come in. All of them, (the hundred I mean) are individual not just a mass of mail, but the three in question were quite distinctive. For one reason, the writers asked no questions (which was a merciful relief) making three letters I do not have to set aside for answering when I can.

Please, readers, don't misunderstand me there. I feel that a paper such as ours has a definite responsibility toward the collector who needs information, and his letters must be answered.

The fact that so many of you ask the questions shows that the need for information exists and that you have confidence that Coin World can help you. I, personally, would not shake that confidence.

However, it is still a relief to get a letter occasionally that does not ask a question. It means the pile does not increase and will be diminished that much sooner. But I am getting off the track.

One of the three just thanked me for information previously given, and signed off. The second also thanked me for referring him to someone else, and told me what the solution was, which was pleasing as it both solved his problem and added to my education.

The third was quite different. It said my column had started to get boring. He wanted less words than I had been writing recently, and more along the line of personal experiences.

That letter was probably good for me. It reminded me that "one man's meat is another man's poison", and that it is probably true that nobody can "please all the people all the time", even though we try.

When I devote an entire column to one subject, then the chances are pretty good that some people won't like it because they don't happen to be interested in that particular subject. It might be better if I put more varied material in each column.

On the other hand, there is also an old saying, "if you try to please everybody, you please nobody". So maybe I am stuck on the horns of a dilemma. At any rate, I was glad to read that letter, as such criticism helps to keep down the size of my hat (if not my column!). While I may not enjoy adverse criticism (who does?), I am really glad to get it.

The only way we can improve is to be told about our mistakes, and any person or any thing that does not try always for improvement is standing still, which, in this day and age, means going backward. When I make mistakes, you tell me about them. I did say that when a major league baseball player bats 1,000 over a season, then maybe I will go a reasonable length of time without making a mistake, but I still want to be told about it when I do.

Along this same line, Tom Wagner of Kansas City, Mo., wrote in that we made a mistake in our Coin Test in the June 30 issue. The answer to question No. 1 should have been 1831 instead of 1832. He gave us 80 per cent on that test. He is right. Either my eye or my finger slipped on that one, since the correct answer is plainly printed on page 233 of the Red Book. I am only surprised that more readers haven't told us off on it, but maybe they realize that it was a slip and as such not deserving of mention. Mr. (Continued on Page 12)

Trends Of Today's U.S. Coin Values

No Longer Any Summer Coin Slump

BY JIM KELLY

333 West First St., Dayton 3, Ohio

Not so many years ago numismatic activities were so slow in July and August that many of the coin dealers closed shop and took a vacation. As late as ten years ago, the only auction sale held during these months was the one in connection with the A.N.A. Convention.

Jim Kelly

While these two months are still considered one of the "off" seasons, there is certainly not enough difference that any dealer should close shop.

This continuous numismatic activity has also had its effect on the coin market. During the slow summer months, prices were lower and dealers did considerably more buying than selling.

Today the demand for choice material is just as great in the Summer time as at any other season. Consequently, values remain at their normal level. We believe this is an advantage to everyone as a firm market is better for both the buyer and the seller.

Summer time still is a period wherein the dealer does more buying than selling. Many collectors sell a part of their collection, or duplicates, to pay for a vacation, et cetera.

We purchased a collection last week from a man who was going to use the money to buy a new boat. Many collectors tell us they are buying coins as an investment for their children or grandchildren. This is apparently true as during the past few weeks we have purchased several collections where the money was to go for college tuition fees.

This is just another reason why numismatics is the greatest of all hobbies. It is a form of investment and savings as well as being interesting and educational. We only hope the kids get as much out of their education as the parents did from their collecting.

Red Book Tradition And Authority

Production Of Whitman Book In Process All Year Through

Publication of each new edition of the Guide Book of U. S. coins (Red Book) is such an important event in the numismatic world some authorities say the entire hobby remains suspended with anticipation for a brief time just before the latest version goes on sale.

Collectors, dealers and hobby jobbers alike across the country eagerly anticipate R. S. Yeoman's Red Book and stoutly and loyally rely upon it as an accurate guide to the values of United States coins.

A late June publication date has become traditional for the Red Book, although this was slightly delayed until the first week of July for the current 15th edition.

The Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wis., publishers of the Guide Book, has another tradition of long-standing—it carefully processes the thousands of Red Books so they reach jobber outlets at the same time.

Work on the Red Book for the following year begins almost immediately following release of the current volumes.

Whitman officials describe their planning as "precision-like accuracy." The press is reserved (actual printing of the books involves a month-long press run), paper and ink in enormous supplies are ordered and the best possible manner of assembling the book is plotted in such a way that the Red Book will still sell for a low price—another tradition.

The price has been consistently held down although labor and production costs continue to climb. An ever-increasing number of copies printed each year has been a factor in helping to keep the cost low.

Whitman uses a special soil-resistant cover stock, milled exclusively for the Red Book—and it is ordered in quantities by the mile!

The gold foil used for the familiar gold embossed cover of the Red Book must be ordered, and then the covers are fashioned into "cases" just in time to be bound with the inside of the books which have been printed, folded, sewed and trimmed to the correct size.

For each step the most modern and efficient equipment is used to keep production costs at an absolute minimum.

The better class of books are fitted with case-made covers. This type of cover is made up of two boards and a cover wrap with a third strip used at the bind.

This strip, or back lining as it is called, is made of paper or cloth and is glued into the case to reinforce the cover across the board. The cover wrap is the paper or cloth covering which is pasted on the outside of the cardboard covers. The Red Book's cover wrap is attractive, durable and soil-resistant.

The Dexter case making machine used to produce these covers automatically delivers two boards, strips and cuts the back lining correctly, positions the boards and back lining on the glued material, turns it over the boards, presses and then delivers the finished cases onto a receiving table.

Cases made from these machines are uniform in size, the material is firmly and smoothly attached to the boards, the corners are correctly made and the pattern of the material is in no way disturbed.

After the cases are finished and gold stamped with the title of the book, they go to the casing-in machine. Here they are glued to the end sheets of the book for a permanent union.

The case-making machine used for the Red Book produces covers at a rate of a thousand an hour. The operation was formerly a very expensive hand operation.

But even before the physical assemblage of Red Book component parts, there are the months of work involved in the copy for the Red Book before it is set into type.

Everything must be proofread and checked several times; even the "laying out" of the book takes an expert several days.

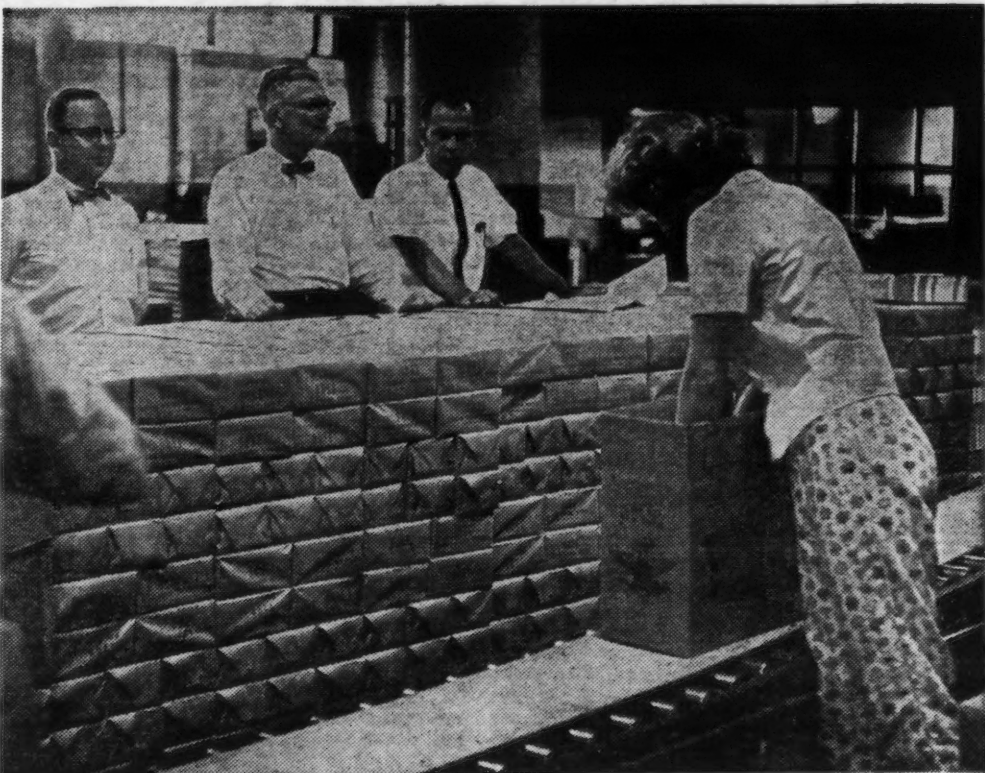

A good month is required to get the prices assembled into workable order after all the suggested price changes have been submitted from the panel of contributors.

Glenn Smedley, Chicago numismatist, is the man in charge of this department. He averages out and tabulates an astounding number of prices and enters these figures on a master sheet to be used in the new edition of the book.

This year the final work on the prices was done at a secret rendezvous completely free from interruptions and was finished in record time.

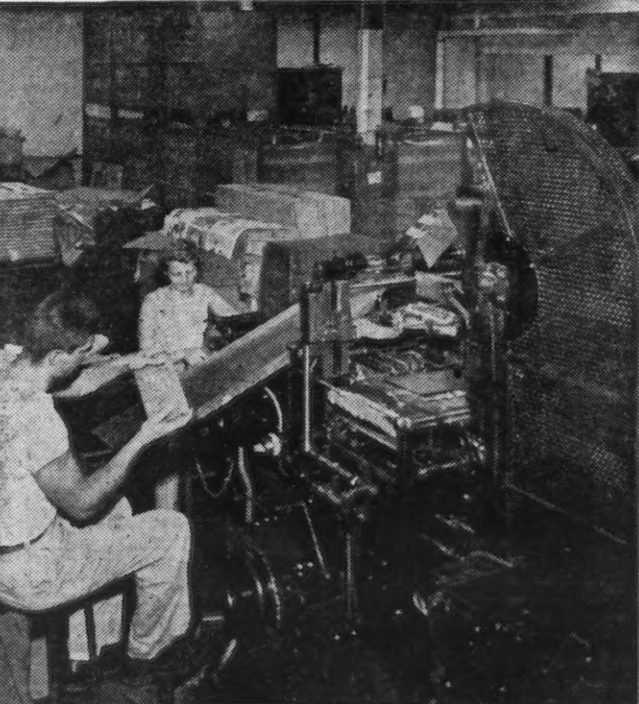

The prices are averaged out to give the best possible estimate of what any given coin is worth. Sometimes the prices are tempered with other known factors and usually rounded off to a reasonable sound figure. A price of $504.02 would scarcely be reasonable or convenient.

The completed copy goes directly to the typesetter—always carefully guarded so that not a single price is ever known outside of the

This is the Pack-O-Matic automatic conveyor belt and packing machine. The orders are placed in special cartons and travel down the conveyor belt to a point where the boxes are automatically sealed and stamped with the name and address of the account. They are then weighed and go directly to the properly assigned trucks. The

Wagner does admit that we don't do it often.

The same writer makes another point in his letter, with which I am in partial agreement. I would like to quote it.

"I have noticed continual complaints by well-meaning collectors about dealers selling medals and reproductions. Dealers sell what is in demand. If collectors didn't buy this so-called 'junk', dealers certainly would advertise something else or soon go out of business. And remember, what may not appeal to you, may appeal to someone else."

Mr. Wagner is correct up to a point. When a collector goes in for medals, he wants medals and not something else, and is entitled to get them where he can. When he wants "Fidos", he is entitled to have them. I don't collect gold coins, but I have no objection when others do.

There is a difference, however, between a collector, who knows what he is doing, buying something, and a collector who does not, buying something that he thinks is the real thing, and then finding out later he was fooled. Also, no serious collector wants "reproductions", unless he is "specializing" in reproductions. I would rather have an empty hole in a series than have a fake in it, even a "copy" which is one kind of fake. All this, of course, is one man's opinion, and others may differ.

But for me, it boils down to this: if a collector knows what he is buying, he should be able to buy anything legal; if he does not, then he should be protected. I am no believer in the "caveat emptor" or "let the buyer beware" school of thought. To me there should be no difference between "business ethics" and "Christian ethics". One of the major purposes of a coin club should be to educate the beginner so that he can't be fooled.

I don't want to get off on that tangent, however. I devoted a good deal in much earlier columns to what I thought about coin clubs, and I probably will do so again, but not this week.

The point I would make is that dealers must sell what is in demand, but I do NOT believe they should help to create that demand if the item in question is questionable (excuse the bad pun). Take the matter of medals. Medal collecting is traditional, but creating medals just to give the medal collector something more to buy approaches the nature of a "racket". "If that be treason, make the most of it". Creating "artificial" commemoratives in stamps ruined that field, I am told.

As for reproductions, I do not believe that they are in demand. Advertising them comes pretty close to "pandering". Coin World is examining its policy in this connection, and has decided to accept no advertising of such items unless the statement regarding "copy", "facsimile", or "reproduction" is not only in the ad but also on the item to be sold. That is a step in the right direction. How far we will go, I don't know. I have no voice in advertising policies.

We definitely do not knowingly accept advertising of counterfeits, altered date coins, and similar items. Whether reproductions should come under the same head is open to debate.

Speaking of reproductions, I think that some dealers are fooling themselves in one case, anyway. I have seen ads offering "reproductions" of Maria Theresa Thalers of 1780. Those coins are still being officially minted for actual circulation (we printed a story several months ago) in certain countries, with no change in date because natives of those countries want them that way. To my mind, that is not "reproduction" in the accepted numismatic meaning of "copy", but the real coin. If I am right, who is being fooled?

Slave Currency Used

In ancient Wales a primitive system of slave-currency appears to have been linked to the metallic currency. A young male slave was equated to one libra (pound) of silver.

Money Shop Opens In North Ohio

The Money Shop is the name of the new, beautiful and completely modern coin center recently opened by Sandy Rivchun and Lou Irwin at 2171 Lee Road, Cleveland Heights, 18, Ohio.

Rivchun, a coin collector since boyhood, is a prominent Cleveland jeweler and jewelry designer. He won the International Diamond Design contest in 1959.

Irwin, a full time coin dealer, started collecting gold 14 years ago; his numismatic interests over the years have included many areas.

Both men are members of the American Numismatic Association, the North East Ohio Coin

Cleveland Heights, Ohio, is the location of The Money Shop . . .

Club, Penn-Ohio Coin Clubs and the Warrensville Center Coin Club. Both are ex-servicemen.

Both Rivchun and Irwin point with pride to the fine numismatic stock they offer.

"We strive to have something for everybody from the novice to the advanced collector," they said. They stock U. S. and foreign gold, proof coins and sets, uncirculated singles and rolls, circulated U. S. and foreign coins, medals, books and supplies.

There is a three-acre municipal parking lot in the rear of the Money Shop to accommodate customers, the partners pointed out.

BU SETS BU

BU LINCOLNS

These are the specialty of the house. I have over 100 sets on hand. All coins from BU rolls, of course. I have a new man working for me now, and he is very careful and conscientious about culling and assembling the sets.

(Add $3.25 for 1960-PD Sm. Dates BU)

1941-1961-PDS BU $11.95
(who can top this?)

1935-1961-PDS BU $24.50

1934-1961-PDS BU $30.95

(Sorry, but the 1934-PD rolls have jumped over $125.00 in 3 months. This is still the best buy. I just barely break even on the 1934-PD.)

BU ROOSEVELTS

This set is ready to go up. I only hope that I can continue to assemble all sets at a price which will allow me a profit. Lincolns are now out of hand. All my coins from BU rolls.

BU LIBERTY NICKELS

A complete brilliant uncirculated set, 1883-1912-S. The 1886 and 1894 are gem proofs. Catalogue value is about $737.00, but the 1885, 1886, 1912-S&D all are selling way over book. A special price for this one set $695.00

STANDING LIBERTY QUARTERS

A complete brilliant uncirculated set except for the 1918-S/17 which is virtually unknown. My offering of this set was contingent upon locating a strictly BU 1927-S, but now that problem is licked. I value the 1916 in this set at $400.00 and the 1927-S nearly the same. The 1924-D and 1927-D are both worth 3 or more times Red Book. No mention has been made of the premium value for full-head coins. For this choice and rare set, I ask $1725.00

Note: I have many F to BU Standing Liberty quarters which are not listed in this ad. Your want list is solicited.

GOLD

I recently purchased two black picture frames into which are mounted 24 pieces of gold coins of the world, representing 21 countries. Two pieces are U. S. $1.00 gold, 22 pieces are the size and weight of a U. S. $5.00 gold coin. Condition ranges from a couple of VF specimens to mostly lustrous BU. Countries include Turkey, Prussia, Greece, So. Africa, Belgium, Spain, France, Great Britain, Switzerland, Russia, Albania, Romania, Venezuela, Austria, Vatican, Cuba, and Hungary. (what did I miss?) I catalogued most of the coins, enough to assure me that they would run $550.00 to $600.00 or more. A fabulous display for your den or office, or give them to your wife. My price $367.50

BU BARBER DIMES

This is all one collection I just purchased. Dick Johnson is always after me to get my copy in earlier, so I haven't time to list everything, but included the collection was a set of Barber dimes, mostly all uncirculated and a second set about half and half. A few proofs too. Included were: 1896-OS EF; 1895, 1892-O, 1893-OS BU, etc. Sorry, no 1895-O or 1901-S BU. Your want lists for these coins are solicited. ? ? ?

The basic purpose of the book is to list the current market value of all United States coins—this is the part that collectors throughout the country are so anxiously awaiting. Aside from this, however, Whitman has accepted the responsibility in making the book technically correct in every detail so it can be used as a standard reference book on United States coins.

This is a sample set showing how various suggested prices are entered into a ledger to compute the pricing of items in the Guide Book—one of the most elaborate procedures of the publication. The prices are then averaged out to give the best possible estimate of what any given coin is worth. The prices are shown for one coin only in this illustration, and it is not an actual page from the records.

New photographs, many new helpful hints and notes throughout the text of the 15th edition, expanded Confederate listings, Civil War tokens, inclusion of the large and small date cents of 1960, the 1945 Micro S dime are added features of the 1962 Red Book.

"By keeping up with popular collecting trends we feel that the Whitman Publishing Company will always be serving the needs of all classes of coin collectors," said Kenneth Bressett, numismatic editor of the firm.

Cherchez La Femme Motto Of Glass Center Women

Women members of the Glass Center Coin Club of Toledo, Ohio, are getting lonesome and appealing for more women collectors in the area to attend the group's meetings, according to a report from secretary Mary Browne.

At the last count, there were a bare half dozen representatives of the feminine sex among the 76 members of all ages and, while they find it adds to their enjoyment of meetings in some respects, they do feel a bit overwhelmed, hence the appeal.

The Glass Center club has voted to continue its policy through the summer of holding two monthly meetings, the first a business session on the first Wednesday of each month, the second a social meeting on the third Wednesday.

All sessions are held at the V.F.W. Post, 1901 Tremainsville Road, starting at 7:30 p.m. At the next one, July 19, silver dollars and tokens are slated to be featured.

Bourse tables are available to club members, dealers or otherwise, before and after club meetings. Visitors are always welcome, Mrs. Browne stated.

Trends Of Today's Canadian Coin Values

Defines Descriptive Terms Used

By J. E. Charlton
80 Richmond St. East
Toronto 1, Ont., Canada

A reader in Valley City, North Dakota, states she is very much interested in the Canadian Coin Trends section but does not understand the meaning of a number of the terms used. For this reader and others who do not have a catalog on Canadian coins, I will define very briefly some of the terms used in the listing.

1947 Maple Leaf, or the abbreviation ML, indicates that the coin is different from the regular 1947 issue by reason of a tiny maple leaf after the date.

1953 No shoulder strap was the first Canadian Queen Elizabeth coinage and it was decided later in the year to improve the appearance of the coins by adding a shoulder strap to the Queen's bust on all denominations.

Tombac or bronze 5 cent pieces were minted in 1942 and 1943. Those of 1942 have the regular beaver reverse, while those of 1943 have a large letter V and a torch conjoined, emblematic of victory and sacrifice. These were wartime issues.

A variety of the 1947 nickel is found with a tiny round raised dot after the figure 7. This should not be confused with the maple leaf variety which has the much larger mark.

On the Canoe type silver dollars there are normally several water lines at the front and rear of the canoe. A variety of the 1952 has no lines at either end, a variety of the 1957 only one at the front end, and varieties of the 1955 and 1950 with only two partial lines at the front of the canoe.

"Arnprior" is the term used for the latter varieties because a large quantity of the 1955 were found in that town and a similar type of 1950 recognized as a variety later, was given the same name.

The letter "H" on certain coins indicates that they were struck in Heaton, a private mint in Birmingham, England. All Canadian coinage from 1908 to the present has been struck in Ottawa.

The 1891 cents come in three varieties, the large date, the small date with small leaves and the small date with large leaves.

The varieties of the 1859 cents listed are the 1859 re-engraved wide 9, the 1859 over 58 wide 9 and the 1859 over 58 narrow 9. While I realize these definitions are very elementary to many readers, still there are undoubtedly others like Miss Fonder who are just getting started in this interesting series.

Next week, in answer to many enquiries, I will disclose for the first time some unknown facts regarding the Canadian proof-like mint sets, never previously published.

The Romance of MONEY

By Ted R. Hammer

Collectors looking for new fields might well consider the OCM department — a newly created branch of numismatics from the brain of your correspondent. It means odd and curious money.

Many coins in the United States series are rare and expensive and it's even becoming difficult to collect mere types without having to stretch the budget to get some of the scarcer items. So while you are waiting for your ship to come in so that Ted R. Hammer you can fill these gaping holes in your albums, pick up a few pieces of OCM.

These items usually are low in price and there is an interesting story behind each specimen. Suppose you complete a set of Lincoln cents. You can tell the story of the Lincoln cent in a few paragraphs. You can buy a collection of odd and curious pieces for the price of one 1909-S VDB, the scarcest Lincoln cent.

Mexican clay money is just one of the thousands of odd and curious items that attract the eye of the collector and non-collector. And it's a product of North America. This was one of the many curious forms of money invented by Indian tribes of Mexico.

There also was emergency money of the haciendas or large rancheros. Soap, slate, baked clay and leather are some of the materials used as money by native Americans.

Some of the baked clay coins have unusually symmetrical lines. There are marks on the edges which probably indicate their denomination. These clay coins were used by Indians of the state of Chihuahua.

When Europeans arrived on this side of the Atlantic, they found

"I'm a specialist!—What have you got in bongo drums on coins, Daddy-O?"

the natives using wampum for adornment and as a medium of exchange. The whites found that they could buy furs from the Indians by using this money made of the inner portion of shells found on the shores of New England.

And soon the white men were using the wampum in carrying on commerce with one another. Short of hard money and coining none, they used many substitutes.

Tradition has it that the Naragansetts invented wampum, a word that probably is of Indian origin. Time and labor consumed in stringing these shells together definitely gave them a value.

MENTION "COIN WORLD" IN ANSWERING ANY AD!

Senators Sign Resolution Issuing Medal To Bob Hope

Ninety-seven U. S. Senators signed a joint resolution recently authorizing the issuance of a gold medal to Bob Hope. The resolution was sponsored by Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri.

Resolution read in part: "Whereas his contributions over a long period of years to the morale of millions of members of the United States armed services, in addition to those of our friends and allies, have been of immediate and enduring value; and "Whereas these contributions have been made during Christmas and at other times by personal contact in countless miles of travel around the globe, to the farthest outposts manned by American youth, during times of peace and war; often under dangerous conditions and at great personal risk; and

"Whereas while at home he has given firm and imaginative support to humanitarian causes of every description..."

The resolution concluded by calling Bob Hope "America's most prized 'Ambassador of Good Will' throughout the world."

According to the resolution, the President will present the medal to Hope in the name of the American people, and that "The Secretary of the Treasury shall cause such a medal to be struck and furnished to the President."

Numismatist Disclaims Texas Piece As Coinage

T/Sgt. Vernon Niemi of Brownsville, Texas, appealed to Coin World readers to help identify what he believed was an ancient coin of jade.

Information came to him at once from several quarters—including a letter of clarification from H. F. Bowker, consultant in East Asian numismatics to the Smithsonian Institution, an Oakland, Calif., authority.

"This has no possible connection whatsoever with numismatics," advised Bowker. "It seems probably from the description and illustration that it is of Chinese origin and is what is known to sinologists as a 'pi'."

There are no examples whatever of jade having been used by the Chinese for coins or as a media of exchange Bowker continued.

He pointed out that jade was highly valued during all ages, but it was valued too highly to be used for any such prosaic use as for coins.

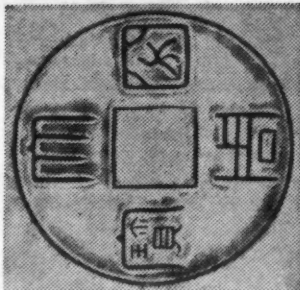

"This, despite of the many instances of coin dealers taking advantage of the ignorance of collectors in making such claims for various jade or other stone trinkets which they have to dispose of under the false assumption that they are 'coins'" said Bowker.

He quotes chapter V of Berthold Laufer's volume entitled, "Jade, A Study in Chinese Archaeology and Religion," which was published by the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago in 1912.

"Even such a knowledgeable sinologist as Laufer was led to believe that such was the case" the Oakland authority said.

"He describes and depicts a crude jade object which simulates one of the odd-shaped knife coins of Wang Mang. There is no contemporaneous Chinese record that Wang Mang's regime ever actually used jade for coins.

"The fact that the seal characters on the piece which he pictured are those which appear on a common copper coin of that period certainly cannot be assumed to establish that it is a coin, for there are hundreds or even thousands of examples where this sort of thing occurs... where coin inscriptions were copied by the Chinese on superstitious amulets.

This is an ink-squeeze of a jade specimen whose inscriptions simulate those which appear on Chinese coins, although there is no known coin with the same inscription. The specimen is from the collection of H. F. Bowker, of Oakland, Calif., consultant in East Asian numismatics to the Smithsonian Institution.

Sgt. Vernon Niemi and his unidentified coin-like object.

"Further the style of the four characters on his specimen certainly are not in the style of the Wang Mang coins, and the lower character Ch'uan lacks the one universal characteristic which is common to all Wang Mang coins bearing this character, which was made a matter of law at the time.

Bowker says the piece that Sgt. Niemi possesses is an ornament, pure and simple, and nothing else. He also explained that the Chinese mount these objects on carved wood stands in a vertical position so that the beauty of their translucent coloring and the carving may be viewed by the light filtering through the piece.

Robert L. Reeder, Brownsville, Texas, advised Sgt. Niemi that the jade ring dates back to the Sung or probably earlier Chinese dynasty. He, too, referred to Berthold Laufer's book, and gave its publisher, The Westwood Press of South Pasadena, Calif.

Reeder explained that Laufer made many trips to China at the turn of the century, and was a director of the Field Museum of Natural History, now known as Chicago Natural History Museum.

Reeder pointed out that Laufer was concerned with the religious aspects of jade and the various meanings of the pieces, and that he mentioned rings such as Niemi's with various designs which were sometimes used as badges of authority.

Reeder, a former Chicagoan, has always had an avid interest in jade, he told Sgt. Niemi.

"I collect Mayan and other tribal jades from Mexico. The similarity of design between Chinese and Mexican jades has been noted by experts many times," he said.

"The theory, of course, is that the culture was transmitted through the Bering Straits migration. I must say, however, that some experts discount this. Similar types of decorations, not related by any possibility of trade or heritage, concluded Reeder, "rare not uncommon in the archaeological field."

Catalog Of N.E. Ohio Is Now Printed

Auction catalogs for the Federal Coin Exchange auction to be staged at the North East Ohio Coin Club's convention at Cleveland's Statler-Hilton hotel, July 21, 22, and 23, have been released recently.

Nearly 1400 lots are listed and everything is included from early American coins, to rolls, commemoratives and foreign gold.

Some of the outstanding items include an 1877 Shield type nickel in "shade off uncirculated." The catalog description says that although the Red Book and other authoritative works list the 1877 in proof only, "this specimen never was struck in proof condition and has none of the characteristics of a proof or even a proof-like surface."

The catalog concluded, "This is the first 1877 that we have ever seen struck in regular mint state condition and we have handled many in the past 20 years. Far rarer than proof...."

Fifteenth edition of Red Book lists the proof at $400. "Here is your opportunity to acquire an outstanding rarity that may be 'possibly unique,'" the catalog stated.

Other choice items include a 1918-S over 17 Liberty standing quarter. "Very bold overdate," stated the catalog, "may exceed the estimated value of $500."

H. F. Bowker Noted As Top Oriental Authority

Howard F. Bowker

Coin World is privileged to print comments from Howard F. Bowker. He is known to numismatists throughout the world as the man to see when a piece of money with strange Oriental markings needs to be identified or classified.

James G. Brock, in writing about Bowker in the current edition of Calcoin News, the quarterly magazine of the California State Numismatic Association, described the Smithsonian consultant in this manner:

He pointed out that Bowker is an editor, librarian, philatelist, collector of numismatic and philatelic bookplates, an amateur printer and bookbinder.

Bowker also owns one of the largest special-interest libraries on East Asian numismatics in the United States.

Since 1924 he has been collecting coins and stamps of East Asia—China, Korea and Japan.

He became interested in the culture of Oriental countries while he was serving in the Navy at a supply depot in Hankow, China. There he began collecting books and articles on both coins and stamps. This was the start of the large East Asian coin collection and the many books that line the walls of the large library in his home in the Montclair Hill area of Oakland, Calif.

He has written many articles and reviews on coins of East Asia for numismatic magazines in the United States and England.

This background has transformed the retired lieutenant commander from a Navy career to a high place in the numismatic world.

A native of Winona, Minn., he attended Chicago schools and then worked as a timekeeper and assistant foreman for the Peoples Gas Light and Coke Co. He later moved to California where he worked in the circulation department of the Los Angeles Times. He enlisted in the Navy in 1911 and served in both World wars I and II. During 34 years of service he held every enlisted, warrant officer and commissioned officer rank up to and including lieutenant commander. When he retired from the service in 1945 he had been writing articles and reviews for publication in numismatic magazines for five years.

He served on the USS Jupiter before it was refitted and commissioned the Langley, first U.S. aircraft carrier. He also served on the USS Saratoga. He was supply officer of the USS Whitney and the USS Clytie during World War II.

Bowker was assistant supply officer at Cavite, Philippine Islands and at the naval station in Guam from 1938 to 1940. During the war he was chief warrant officer on the troop transport USS West Point, a ship later to be named the USS America.

Known as "H. F." to his many friends throughout the world, Bowker will be working for the next few months on more than 10,000 East Asian coins sent to him from Germany for cataloging.

He serves as East Asian consultant to the Division of Numismatics of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C. and in 1959 he spent three months there classifying "an enormous lot of coins." He worked eight hours a day for the three months.

"My present connection with the Smithsonian is replying to the many numismatic inquiries it receives on East Asian coins and identifying all the institution's new acquisitions in this field," said Bowker.

He edited the China section of Wayne Raymond's Coins of the World, and has written for many numismatic publications. In 1935 he was accepted to membership in the North China Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society in Shanghai. He is a member of the standing committee on Oriental coins of the American Numismatic Society. He is a Fellow of the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society, served as bulletin editor, and currently is librarian. He is member No. 1000 of the California State Numismatic Association.

Violetta and Howard Bowker's three sons served in the armed forces during World War II—Howard F. Bowker Jr. was a major and a pilot in the U. S. Marine Corps; Gordon A. Bowker a lieutenant on the U. S. Submarine Argonaut. They were both war casualties. Irving Bowker, formerly a lieutenant in the U. S. Army, is now assistant manager of a Travelodge in Salinas.

INVESTORS COIN COMPANY

Dept. CW Lynbrook, New York

To Install New Officers In Tenn. Club

Newly elected officers will be installed at the July meeting of the Tri-State Coin Club of Johnson City, Tenn., slated for Monday, July 17, at the Recreation building on Legion Street, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Also on the program is a coin quiz, the winner of which will receive a prize.

At the election meeting, Richard Wilson, secretary-treasurer, was chosen president; Dr. Robert Rowe, vice president, and Mrs. B. C. Sayers, secretary-treasurer. J. E. Isenberg, the club's first president, was elected to the board of directors.

Retiring president Lewis Haynes reviewed the year's activities, and promised to live down the expression "the ex-president is the dearest member of a club". B. C. Sayers cited the fact that the meeting was the group's fifth anniversary, and special recognition was given the charter members and past presidents.

Following the business meeting, a special auction was held, at which the rules required that at least one "key coin" be in each consignor's lots.

Wymore Club In Beatrice, Neb.

Because the majority of its members live in Beatrice, the Blue Valley Coin Club of Wymore, Neb., will travel to Beatrice on Tuesday, July 18, for a special session, to be held in the community room of the Beatrice National Bank, starting at 7:30 p.m. Of the club's 47 members, 30 are from the other community, including five new members accepted at the last meeting. These include Gary Sanford, Steve Randall, Richard Van Winkle, and Bill Davison.

At the last session, in Wymore, Jack Rea of Beatrice displayed a proof set exhibit, and Donald Colgrove of Wymore received a special award of a 1908-S Indian cent in Fine.

SUMMER (J.F.K.) SPECIALS..from Jim Kelly

The Priceless Extra of Experience

Experience is something which you cannot buy, but which often comes at a considerable cost.

In twenty-five years as a professional numismatist, I have been fortunate in having handled and catalogued some of the country's outstanding collections. For a number of years I was closely associated with the late B. G. Johnson, and helped in disposing of parts of the Virgil Brand and Colonel Green collections. These were valued at several million dollars prior to 1940. The experience gained from working with these and many other collections which included great rarities, afforded first-hand knowledge and information which is not available today since this material has now been widely distributed and is known to most collectors and dealers only from listings in catalogues and books.

You can buy or sell with more confidence when dealing with a qualified and experienced numismatist.

We solicit your business on the basis of twenty-five years as a professional numismatist, integrity, and prompt efficient service.

IF YOU HAVE COINS FOR SALE WE ARE INTERESTED!

Our large volume of business makes it necessary to be continually on the search for choice material. To list what we need would require several pages of Coin World. Frankly, there is little in the way of desirable United States Coins or Currency that we would not be interested in buying. During the past twenty-five years, we have purchased many of the country's outstanding collections. In most cases, it was necessary to compete and pay a better price than our competition. We do not believe in making fantastic or false claims about having the largest business or paying the highest prices. All we ask is the opportunity to figure with you and make you an offer.

IF YOU ARE SELLING . . . WE ARE BUYING! LET'S TALK IT OVER!

Blue Ridge Group Honors J. L. Jones At Convention

Hundreds attended the Blue Ridge Numismatic Association's first anniversary show, held in Greer, S. C., Recreation Center with the Greer Coin Club as host.

"The Greer Coin Club and especially Charles Huff, secretary, James C. Howard, president, and J. L. Jones should be commended for the work done to make the show the success it was," said Grady Sizemore, of Greenville, S. C., secretary of the Blue Ridge Association.

Jones, first president of the Blue Ridge group, was presented with a bronze plaque by Association president Fred L. Zink Jr., Clemson, for his outstanding contribution to the association.

A portrait of Lincoln created from cents and a 1943 copper cent were among the outstanding exhibits at the show.

J. Roy Pennell Jr., Anderson, S. C., is first vice president of the Blue Ridge group; John C. Edwards, Camden, S. C., second vice president, and George T. Lunsford, Greenville, S. C., is treasurer.

Wilson, N.C., Club Buys Book

Coin collectors in the Wilson County, N. C., area are invited to attend the next meeting of the Wilson Coin Club, scheduled for Thursday, July 20, at the Hotel Cherry, in Wilson, starting at 8 p.m.

At a recent meeting, club members voted to present the public library with a book on numismatics, and a copy of Yeoman's "Red Book" was decided upon.

Also have 1913-S Lincoln cent, stem of wheat sheaf at right broken as though you'd snap a twig. Worth $10.00? Certainly neither ordinary errors!

Numismatic Depth Study

Indian Cent Varieties, Gold Type Set Bowers Topic

By Q. David Bowers

Joseph L. Diadato of Lingleston, Pa., has furnished us with photographs of two different 1860 Indian cent varieties in his possession, and the inquiry, "Have you ever heard of these before?" One specimen has a rounded end to the tip of the neck truncation, usually called "bust point." The other has a sharp bust point. The 1 of the date 1860 varies in the distance from the point in each instance also.

Differences in 1860 cents can be seen in this photograph from Joseph L. Diadato, Lingleston, Pa. The coin to the left has a sharp bust point, and the other specimen has a rounded end to the tip of the neck truncation. There are also variations in the distance of the 1 in the date from the point in each coin.

This is the first time that we have heard of this difference in the cents of 1860. A check through specimens in our own stock and in the stock of Empire Coin Co., Inc. revealed that the sharp bust point is seven or eight times rarer than the rounded end variety.

A check of other dates of the copper-nickel Indian cents would undoubtedly reveal many differences in the bust points (the 1858 transitional Indian cent and the 1864 bronze cent come with two different types of bust points. One way of recognizing 1864-L cents too worn to have the L readable is by the pointed bust...regular 1864 bronze cents have a rounded end) and the positions of the date numbers.

During recent years there has been great interest in die varieties of Indian cents. A number of the most interesting varieties are:

(1) The many different varieties of recut dates of the 1864-L cent.

(2) 1867 cent with a small 7 (from a half dime punch, by mistake) protruding above the regular 7.

(3) 1869/8 overdate and 1869 recut date...the recut date is commonly sold as the overdate also.

(4) 1873 with the letters in LIBERTY doubled...an effect as pronounced as that of the 1955 double die cent.

(5) Two varieties of 1886, distinguished by the position of the last feather in the headdress.

(6) Sharply recut 4 in the date 1894.

The date punches on Indian cents are vastly different. Compare, for instance, the small straight compact date of the 1872 cent with the wide, large curving date of the 1871 cent. Lee Hewitt informed us that he plans to publish a listing the Indian cent varieties.

The vast majority of all United States coins have the obverse and reverse aligned in a 180 degree position; that is, the reverse will be inverted if a coin is turned over from right to left as the pages of a book. We have had a number of inquiries recently (Continued on Page 50)

Coinarama Dates In Fall

The fourth annual Coinarama, sponsored by the San Diego County Inter-Club Numismatic Council, will be held at the Stardust Motel on Sunday, October 8, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The Stardust Motel is located on Hotel Circle, Route 80, San Diego. Russell Rulau, 4007 Casita Way, San Diego, 15, is general chairman.

Dr. Edward Kann, of Los Angeles, Calif., will be a member of the Numismatic Forum at 1 p.m. —one of his rare public appearances.

Dr. Kann, who was 81 years old in June, is the author of "The Currencies of China" and "Illustrated Catalog of Chinese Coins."

Butter For Cash

Butter was used as currency in medieval Norway. Rents were often payable wholly or partly in butter.

Withers Opens New Coin Shop

Marvin Withers, formerly of Pratt, Kan., has recently established a new coin establishment, called the State Line Shop, at Beaver Star Route, Liberal, Kan.

Withers invites all of his friends to stop in and see him when they are going through Western Kansas.

He had been operating a shop with his father Floyd M. at Pratt; the latter is still in business there.

Withers has named Norman Cox, of Dodge City, Kan., as his partner in the new venture.

Buffalo Bill Coins Available

Souvenir commemorative coins for the benefit of the Buffalo Bill Scouts Rest Ranch have gone on sale in North Platte, Nebr., according to reports from Mendel Hirschfeld, project chairman.

The coins show Col. (Buffalo Bill) Cody on the obverse and the famous Scouts Rest Ranch on the reverse. Profits from their sale at $1 will be used for the purchase of the ranch, on which the state of Nebraska plans an historical shrine.

They are available at two "covered wagon" sales sites, one in the courthouse square in North Platte, the other at the fairgrounds.

A Weekly Report To Our Readers

Statistics And Interesting
Information from your COIN
WORLD Circulation Dept.

CECIL WATKINS

Readers, Advertisers Share C.W. Costs

As has been previously announced, Coin World's subscription rate will be increased effective July 15, 1961. Here's why:

From its very first issue, Coin World has always considered that its first responsibility is to its readers. The development of "Trends of Today's U. S. Coin Values" (plus the recent addition of "Trends of Today's Canadian Coin Values") was only one of a series of pioneering news developments in the numismatic field.

Weekly editorial comment via columnists upon current topics and incidents of interest to numismatists everywhere has been welcomed as something that was not so fully obtainable previously. Continuous service to the reader in the manner of exploratory columns and special numismatic editions has been provided . . . all evidence of this philosophy of reader service.

We honestly believe that no other numismatic publication, regardless of length of its existence, compares with Coin World in depth of numismatic information, in breadth of recording convention and club activities as well as coin auction reporting. We have been concerned over our reader's welfare by our prompt action when we have found that something misleading was being attempted.

Coin World's conscientious editorial job requires an exceptionally large and able staff which could not be recruited over-night nor rapidly trained to meet the special requirements of our thousands and thousands of critical readers with specialized knowledge.

The tendency of some numismatic publications to pass on all of the added production costs to the advertiser, with rates rising far out of proportion to recent circulation increases, must be deeply disturbing to discerning coin dealers who have given the matter considerable thought. The fact that Coin World was able to reach 65,000 net paid circulation in less than 63 weeks is indicative of the editorial vacuum which has existed in the numismatic world for some length of time.

It is precisely because we have always given so much more to our readers and are so certain that they find Coin World valuable beyond price that we feel it is fair to ask them to share in today's increased costs. After all, 52 weekly issues of 60 or more fact-filled pages are not afforded by any other medium.

In raising our subscription prices, we reaffirm our determination to produce the most useful and most valuable numismatic publication to the greatest number of coin collectors and enthusiasts. And in assigning them a fair share of the costs, we believe that we demonstrate once again the great editorial strength that has made Coin World the favorite weekly coin publication of more collectors more rapidly than any other publication, no matter how long published.

We believe that this philosophy of publishing the best possible coin newspaper and of fairly allocating the costs of producing it between reader and advertiser is one of the qualities which makes Coin World different . . . and a greater numismatic advertising medium and source of numismatic information.

July 15th Price Change Date

July 15th is the final date to subscribe or renew your subscription to Coin World at the original subscription prices.

There is a possibility that your subscription is scheduled to expire with the 66th issue, which will carry the date of July 21 and you have already received your notice that your paper will expire in three weeks.

All the notices being sent out starting with the 66th issue will carry the new subscription prices but you are eligible to renew at the old price if you send us your remittance postmarked July 15th or earlier.

Already we have received a few renewals with $4.00 remittance but we are extending the renewal time to compensate for the extra dollar.

This is an unusual situation caused by the overlapping dates of notice of renewal and the actual expiration date. Subscribers with Whole Numbers 67 and 68 will also receive "To Expire" notices showing the new price schedules but will be eligible to renew at former prices if letters are postmarked July 15th or earlier.

Be sure your renewal qualifies under the following rules:

1. Any renewal taken at present subscription rates may not be for longer than two years.
2. Only present subscribers whose Whole Numbers are 117 or less may renew for two years at present rates.
3. Present subscribers whose Whole Numbers are between 117 and not over 169 may renew for one year at present rates and one year at new rates.
4. Subscribers whose Whole Numbers are greater than 169 are not eligible to renew at present rates but may renew at new rates for a period not to exceed two years.

Derby Race Is Topic At Club Session

Culver City, Calif., Coin Club's main topic of discussion at its July 14 meeting will be a midget derby race for youngsters in the area, announced Millicent Fishel, secretary.

Culver City club membership has voted a sum of $75 to be expended for the project.

The derby race will be held on July 22 at the Culver City High School grounds and has been endorsed by the Culver City Police Department and by the Culver City newspapers.

Entrance blanks for the event have been available at Eric Warner's Coin Shop, Sepulveda boulevard, Los Angeles. Warner is a member of the club board.

Vehicles to be used in the race must be constructed by the participants and will be of simple construction.

Ernie Hood, club president, is selecting a committee of contest judges who will award prizes to the derby's top participants.

Redding, Calif. Club Meets In Methodist Hall

Interested collectors in Northern California were invited to attend the July meeting, its second, of the recently organized Redding, Calif., Numismatic Society, slated for Monday, July 10, in the Methodist Church Recreation hall, East and South streets, Redding, at 7:30, according to a report from Donna Lee Toenjes, secretary.

Programs are being planned to include and interest all kinds of collectors, from beginners to advanced. The club's policy is to promote fellowship, good ethics, and interest in numismatics, Mrs. Toenjes said.

Information regarding the club may be obtained from Mrs. Toenjes, 960 Gold street, Redding, or Dr. F. D. Thompson, president, 2005 Court street, Redding.

Utah Society Plans July Bourse Meeting

The Utah Numismatic Society, Salt Lake City, is planning a bourse night for July 19 meeting, according to word received from Joseph W. Sterner, club secretary-treasurer.

A nominal fee of $1 per table is being charged, and name cards are being prepared for those who sponsor a table.

James Designs Moon Money Token

Somer James, president of the Regency Coin and Stamp Co., Winnipeg, has designed two tokens he calls "Moon Money."

They were used as trading tokens at the Red River Exhibition held at Winnipeg from June 23 to July 1.

"These tokens are unusual in that it is the first time that money has ever been produced for use on the moon," commented James.

"Moon Money" designed by Somer James, president of Regency Coin and Stamp Co. The aluminum piece is good for one "astron" and the bronze for two "astrons." They are being used as trading tokens at Red River Exhibition at Winnipeg.

"Four sets are being sent to Alan Shepard of the U. S. Air Force, for use by him, or his colleagues, should they land on the moon, and four sets are being sent to Yuri Gagarin of the Russian Air Force, in the hope that this money will promote peace and trade in outer space," added James.

The aluminum piece is redeemable for one "astron" at any store or bank on the moon until December 31, 1969, while the bronze is good for two "astrons," advised James.

These pieces are available to dealers and collectors at 15 cents each for the aluminum, and 25 cents each for the bronze from Regency, 157 Rupert avenue, Winnipeg 2, Manitoba.

Japanese Doctor Talks At Evansville Meeting

Dr. Susucki, a visiting doctor from Japan, spoke informally on Japanese currency at the recent meeting of the Evansville, Ind., Coin Club at the McMurdy Hotel reported Bettye J. Klaus, secretary.

He was presented with a Guide Book on Grading U. S. Coins and a bronze "Third Annual Indiana State Convention" medal.

Ralph Lee, club historian, gave his observations on the Indiana

State Numismatic Society convention, hosted by the Evansville Coin Club.

Dr. Charles Leich, club president, announced that all members who entered exhibits at the convention were to receive certificates of merit.

Dr. Leich also announced that during subsequent monthly meetings, the winning exhibitors would have an opportunity to present and tell of their coin displays.

Club Holds Banquet

The Gainesville, Fla., Coin Club has adjourned for the summer, following its last meeting, held June 14 at the Chamber of Commerce. In May, the club held its first annual banquet, under the chairmanship of past president Mrs. Maude Adams.

Oddity Discovered

A 1931-S Lincoln cent discovery brought a smile to the face of W. F. Campbell Jr., owner of a Montgomery, Ala., shoe store. One of the city's most prominent numismatists, he also recently discovered an Indian head cent, with an upside-down reverse.

CENTRAL IOWA COIN CLUB MEDAL

The obverse will have the Central Iowa Coin Club emblem (above) while the reverse will carry the Iowa Numismatic Association emblem. This medal will be issued by the Central Iowa Coin Club in conjunction with the Iowa Numismatic Association Convention to be held at the Hotel Tallcorn, Marshalltown, Iowa, on September 30 and October 1, 1961, at which the Central Iowa Coin Club is host.

More Token Definitions

By Russell Rulau

HALBAG—Frankfurt-am-Main, Germany, possesses some interesting tokens of the early 19th century. One, a token dated 1818, contains the denomination "¼ HALBAG"; the only instance known to the writer this denomination has ever been used.

Unusual denominations are the rule, rather than the exception, on the tokens of Frankfurt. Others which have appeared during the same period being "THELER" and "ATRIBUO".

SECO—A name applied to the tokens of merchants of the old Southwest, especially those used in the Indian trade.

BANK TOKEN—As the name implies, a token issued by or on behalf of a bank. The term has especial significance when applied to issues of Great Britain and her colonies, however.

The Bank of England issued silver tokens 1804-1816 which were inscribed "bank token" and passed current as legal coin of the realm. These silver tokens were struck over captured Spanish coins.

Similarly, the Bank of Ireland, the Bank of Guernsey (Channel Islands) and the Douglas Bank (Isle of Man) issued silver tokens during the same period. In a later period (1837-1857), many Canadian banks issued copper tokens to pass current as fiat money.

All these various British bank tokens closely resemble true coins in intent and usage, yet they are tokens in fact as well as in name.

The term, bank token, has been applied also to the U.S. Jackson Cents, or Hard Times Tokens. President Andrew Jackson and his personal war against the United States Bank gave rise to these satirical political pieces.

Modern-day banks on occasion have issued tokens good for a stated sum toward a year's rental on safety-deposit boxes or as an initial deposit in a new savings account. These are often colorful and well-made pieces, and occur frequently in the 50 cent denomination.

ADMISSION CHECK—Many American firms catering to large groups of the public, such as museums, art galleries, circuses, theaters, dance halls etc. have fineness and occasionally the current valuation, and used these ingots as bank reserves, as easily transportable standards of value or in some cases are circulating media. Their inclusions as "tokens" has some justification.

Gold and silver mining firms in the United States, as well as else-used metallic discs as admission checks.

These usually contain a counterstamped number on them for control purposes. While the fabrication is often of utter simplicity, many earlier pieces were die-struck and contain elaborate devices.

The role of the admission check has long been regarded as numismatic in character by collectors, yet they have seldom been catalogued. Their use has almost completely been superseded by printed paper coupons today.

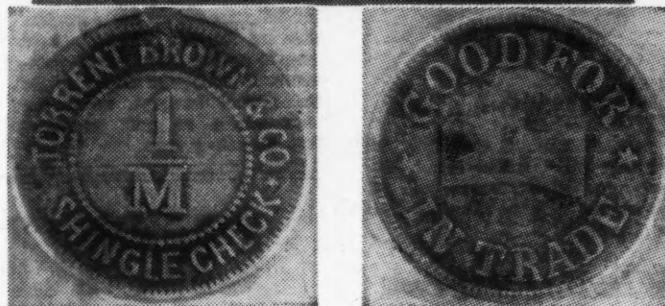

INGOT—(Inclusion of this definition in this column is likely to stir some controversy. The definition which follows is the author's considered opinion and is not necessarily shared by other collectors.)

Minting establishments, public and private, have for millenia cast precious metals in bars, blocks, spheres and less geometric shapes and placed thereon the weight and where, often cast their newly-mined metal in the form of ingots; afterwards they often received an assayer's stamp upon them indicating their weight and fineness. California, Arizona, Nevada, Colorado and Utah all produced such ingots in the mid-19th century. The United States Mint also has long used a similar system with its precious metal reserves.

Ingots struck in coin form are referred to as "territorial gold", "private gold" etc., yet they are still essentially ingots. An ingot represents bullion value, rather than a fixed, arbitrary denomination; or, put another way, value given for value received. Ingots generally were not intended for circulation, but there are so many exceptions that the rule is rather invalid.

In China, where bullion value was more important than stated denomination, the appearance of sycee silver ingots, or "shoes", was strange only to the foreigner.

Shingle Tokens Rarities

Shingle tokens used during the 1880's in Muskegon, Mich., when that town was known as the "lumber queen of the world," are now extremely rare. The tokens were used to count bundles of shingles, according to Marie A. Johnson, who wrote a feature on shingle tokens in the June 9 edition of Coin World (Page 48.)

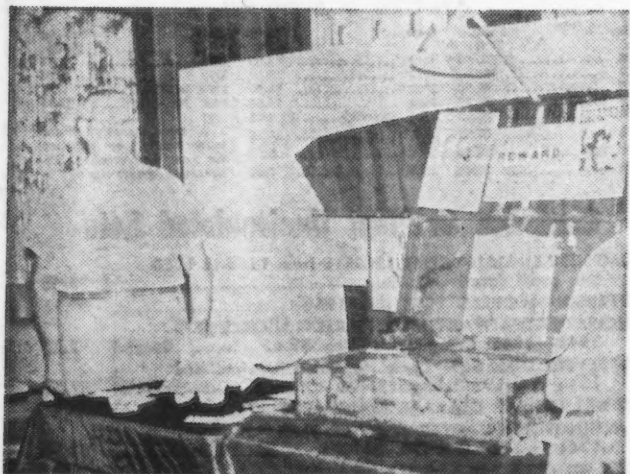

Similar emissions were the silver cakes of Hunan Province and of Tibet, the so-called Siamese bullet money and a variety of "dumps" of India. Privately-issued tael by Chinese settlers in Indonesia and other areas have been used up until now and generally represent true weight, or ingot.

The use of the weight, rather than a denomination, was so general in China that even the government-issued coins of the Manchu dynasty, contained the weight expressed in terms of taels, mace and candareens. Thus the silver dollar was inscribed "7 MACE and 2 CANDAREENS" rather than "ONE DOLLAR".

A question here is raised as to whether we can consider ingots as exnumismatic items. I believe they should be so considered, since by their very nature they are numismatic and yet cannot properly be called "coins". In the case of the territorial gold issues, they are purely token issues, having had no governmental authority for their issuance. A similar case exists for the Chinese sycee silver.

Tampa Juniors Form New Club; To Meet At Recreation Center

Juniors are absorbed in some of the coin collections shown at the Tampa, Fla., Recreational Center display and organizational meeting of the Junior Tampa Coin Club.

The Junior Tampa Coin Club was formally organized recently under the auspices of the Tampa, Fla., Coin Club with Mike Clancy elected president of the new group.

Other officers include Dick Brazzeal, first vice president; Thomas Gandy, second vice president; Robert Tennant, secretary; Scott Duink, treasurer, and Bruce Bokar, public relations director.

A number of coin collections were on display, and a lot of interest and questions were generated by these exhibits. The public was invited through the press and radio, and there was a good attendance of seniors as well as juniors, according to Dr. Ben T. Beacham, publicity director of the Tampa Coin Club.

Girls and boys from 9 to 19 are eligible to the club. It meets every Wednesday night from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the North Boulevard Community Center, 214 N. Boulevard, in Tampa. For the June 28 meeting there were 28 juniors present.

John Hall, Tampa Coin Club vice president, discusses plans for the formation of the Tampa Junior Coin Club with Miss Moore, director of the Tampa Recreational Center at 214 N. Boulevard.

New Magazine Bows On Early American

The Metropolitan Numismatic Journal, a bi-monthly magazine specializing in articles on early American coins and edited by the noted numismatic authority, Walter Breen, made its first appearance recently.

Breen in his opening article said that the new publication is intended primarily for the advanced collector and by the latter term he means those who have "advanced beyond the roll, bag, proof set and/or commemorative stage."

The editor's lead article dealt with the 1795 silver dollar struck over a 1794 dollar, and he also included a tentative checklist of Massachusetts silver.

Breen said that the Journal welcomes articles and notes on any phase of American numismatics, and that material by such authorities as Dr. George Fuld and others is already lined up.

Subscriptions may be obtained for $3 per year by writing to the publishers, Metropolitan Coin Co., 3012 Joshua road, Lafayette Hill 4, Pa.

Breen maintains his editorial offices at 1205 Peralta avenue, Berkeley 6, Calif.

Chancellor Honored With Medals

A series of commemorative gold medals was issued for German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's 85th birthday.

The medals are similar since they all carry a portrait of Adenauer on the obverse and his name on the reverse.

One of the medals was minted at the State Mint in Munich and comes in eight denominations: one, three, five, 10, 20, 30, 40, and 50 ducats. (There are 26 marks to the ducat, while a German mark is equal to about 25 cents.)

A second variety has a highly polished finish and was struck at the Aureus Magnus mint at Munich. The denominations are two and one-half, five, 10, 20, and 30 ducats.

The inscription reads "Konrad Adenauer Pater Patriae Deutschland". Translated, "Konrad Adenauer Father of the German Fatherland."

These two medals have been obtainable at German banks, but since the import of gold into the United States is subject to special held," according to Treasury regulations.

"It would only be a very small issue, such as a commemorative issue, and it would truly have to be a collector's item," explained Dr. F. Leland Howard, acting director of the Mint.

Countless coins of Alexander the Great's period have been preserved because innumerable hoards were buried for safety's sake after Alexander's death in 323 B. C.

Final determination of what is a collector's item or a rare coin is left up to the Curator of the division of numismatics at the Smithsonian Institution.

Coins on display in the employee hobby show at Philco Plant 10, Philadelphia, are examined by Theodore Hess, R. C. Deakin and Alex Marshall who supplied the $4,000 exhibit. On June 8 the trio planned a meeting to formulate a coin club for Philco employees only. There is a total of well over 40 years of coin collecting among Hess, Deakin and Marshall.

The Lincoln Coin Club, Southgate, Mich., is planning to hold its second annual convention October 21 and 22 at the Steelworkers Union Hall, 14024 Fort street, Southgate, reported Winifred Jewell, secretary.

There will be 8,600 square feet of coin activity featuring bourse tables, coin displays, and auctions. Special prizes of $5 and $10 gold pieces will be awarded.

Bourse tables are still available and reservations may be secured by contacting bourse chairman Floyd Webb, 947 Harrison, Lincoln Park.

Plenty of good food will be available, the public is cordially invited, and there will be plenty of free parking, said Miss Jewell.

Poland and Germany used iron striking coins between 1916 and 1918. Iron had also been used by the Greeks for coinage as early as the fifth century B. C.

New Chase Structure Takes Visitor Into 21st Century

By Hans M. F. Schulman

We coin collectors are, of course, most interested in the places where the money comes from, the banks, and my visit recently to the most beautiful bank in the world, the newest building from which and into which money flows, certainly merits a mentioning in this column. I visited Chase Manhattan plaza, the square on which the new 66 story high building of the Chase Manhattan bank has been built.

Hans Schulman

The plaza is downtown New York in the financial district and covers a square surrounded by Pine, Nassau, Cedar etc. streets.

The building which is in glass and aluminum is the highest downtown structure in the financial area and the view from the beautiful restaurant on the top floor is a treat for any visitor who has the honor to be invited by one of the officers to this club-restaurant, only open to officers.

On the same floor in a beautiful modern setting adorned by modern paintings by world famous painters are private dining rooms.

There is one for each of the top men of this bank, David Rockefeller and George Champion. There is also a conference dining room for the board with guests and other facilities. Rarely a restaurant in the world has as much atmosphere and style as this one.

Coin World readers will not want to miss the color photographs of this bank in the Time magazine of June 30.

The executive floor with the officers of the two famous heads of this bank is in a style which would make a Hollywood producer jealous. It was difficult for me to say whose office I better liked, the one of George Champion or of Mr. Rockefeller.

The head of the Trust Department, Mr. Ross, whose executive office struck me because he only has a table with chairs in it, and no desks, deserves a special mention.

There are few doors in any of the offices but the walls are built in such a way that there is privacy. Heavy carpet and a most original way of keeping the sun out and elevators which go up and down like a comet—never was in one that quick—are other features.

The building has five floors going downward 90 feet into the ground. The lowest floor houses the biggest vault in the world and the wealth of its depositors runs through this enormously well protected underground world.

I had the honor to go behind the big doors and saw the large staff of women cutting the coupons of the depositors which come from depositors' lockers in which the securities are housed in such an ingenious way that it is easy to find each depositor's holdings.

No particular physical effort is necessary to get to these millions of depositors securities because a novel automatic way brings the needed file to the woman who is in charge of cutting coupons.

The security, money and file vault is so large that walking around it takes many minutes and its system of protection is supposedly the best in the world.

Everything here is protected against atomic warfare and prolonged stays in the vault can be arranged in case of emergency.

The 7,500 Chase employees working in this building alone, about half of the total Chase staff, are themselves completely impressed by the modern phase of the building inside and outside and are only slowly getting accustomed that they already live in the 21st century and not any more in the 20th.

Phoenix Collector Reports
Error In '61 Proof Set Cent

Ralph Nagel of Phoenix, Arizona, sends in a 1961 proof cent that he took out of a set from the Mint. It is an error. The collar did not adjust correctly, and there is a very thin extra rim or flange extending entirely around the coin, quite noticeable when seen from the reverse side. Rest of the coin is normal.

COMMENT: This helps to prove something said recently, that the Mint can make errors on proof sets as well as on coins for circulation or "regular issue". It does not happen nearly as often, however, and should make a "field day" for collectors of Mint errors.

It also backs up the collector who was mentioned recently who thought he had a recut 1960 proof cent, large over small date. If one mistake can get by the inspectors, so can another. And it is likely that they don't use magnifying glasses.

Malcolm Bumbalough of Springfield, Ohio, sends in a rubbing of a coin and would like information on it. It is dated 1863 on the obverse under a head very similar to that on the "Mercury" dime, with "S. T. Martin Eating House, 160 South Fourth St., Columbus, O." on the reverse.

ANSWER: This is not a coin but one of the famous "Civil War Tokens", Merchants' Store Card variety. Some were of a political nature and these have been largely catalogued; others were of an advertising nature like yours, and it is estimated that about 9,000 different were issued. About half of these were catalogued by George Hetrich and Julius Gutttag and issued numbers, known as "H&G Numbers".

been assigned to the tokens issued by S. T. Martin, all of which vary slightly from each other, mostly in the "head" used, although there are several with variations in the same "head". Yours could be either 8314, 8317 or 8318. They are too much alike to be told apart from a rubbing.

This answer can well serve other readers who have cent-sized coins dated around 1863 but which differ from the Indian cent of those dates. If they have advertising on them, they are "Tradesman's Store Cards" or "Merchants' Tokens", and may or may not have been catalogued by H. and G. If they do not have advertising, they are probably what are known as "Patriotic Civil War Tokens", and have been most recently catalogued by George and Melvin Fuld.

Quite a few collectors go in for Civil War Tokens, patriotic variety or Store Cards or both, and more probably will when they learn about them.

They are an interesting series with the chances of finding unknown or unlisted varieties quite good. Die break collectors or error collectors could have a "field day" on these, as perfectly struck Civil War Tokens are the exception rather than the rule. All were privately coined, and such experts as the Mint had were not available.

Lewis C. Frankell of Springfield, Ill., sent in a picture of a 1960-D Lincoln cent in BU with three letters missing from the word "Liberty", and would like some comment on it.

COMMENT: Curious error but not surprising. Any year that as many million coins are made as were made in 1960 is bound to come up with defective dies of one sort or another. The parade of working dies in and out of the "press room" must have been tremendous.

In all probability, your error is from a "filled die" which happens frequently but not quite so obviously.

A. Corral of Elyria, Ohio, sends in a drawing of a coin that he would like identified. It has on one side a horse in the center, and around the margin some words and letters, chief of which are FERD. D. DUX. BR ET. On the other side are the words "Einen Thaler 1790" in the center, and on the margin "Eine Feine Mark" among other things.

ANSWER: Two clues show up. One is Ferd., for Ferdinand, the other is that the words are German. So, checking Davenport's "German Talers 1700-1800", we find a horse typical of a principality called Brunswick-Wolfenbuttel. We also find Davenport's No. 2172 with enough of the same lettering in the margins of both sides, to identify your coin as of that series. The 2172 is dated 1783, however.

Davenport's No. 2173 comes closer in date, but does not have the horse. That is all he has in that series, so our conclusion about your coin is that it is from Brunswick-Wolfenbuttel, Germany, "not listed by Davenport".

Mont. Group Changes Summer Meetings

The Havre, Mont., Coin Club has voted to change its meeting day for the summer months to the third Tuesday of each month.

Thus, the next meeting is slated for Tuesday, July 18 at the V.F.W. Club.

We suggest you write him, enclosing stamped envelope, and let us know what he says. Address: John S. Davenport, Knox College, Galesburg, Ill.

Here is a "horse of a different color". From Walterboro, S. C., Marion Glover, Jr., writes:

"I have an object that has puzzled me, and I hope some Coin World readers can help. It is a blown-glass pitcher, with handle, about eight inches high. Standing erect in the bottom is an 1835

Club Holds Picnic

A picnic was enjoyed by members of the Shidler, Okla., Coin Club, held at the Phillips 66 Oil Corp. grounds at Lake Charlotte.

Members of their families joined the club for the food and informal activities which included a climb up the 66 steps leading to the lake, according to Mrs. Jo C. Nelson, of Kaw, Okla.

half dime in mint condition, enclosed in glass. What is its origin?

COMMENT: Can any readers help out on this? It has us stumped.

George M. Radich Sr., Astoria, Ore., reports on half-thickness copper cent planchets, mentioned here some months ago. One had only the obverse struck, reverse blank; another, vice versa, Radich says:

I found a copper cent planchet, half the normal thickness, with reverse sharply struck, obverse blank. This was taken from a mint-sealed sack of 1960-D cents. Examination of the planchet shows definitely that the split occurred in the process of striking.

COMMENT: Thank you. Your find proved what was previously only suspected; that such coins can be and sometimes are mint errors. Sometimes the split occurs before the coin enters the press, sometimes afterwards like yours. In the first case, a light strike is most likely if any strike at all, and probably on both sides as in the so-called "thin cent". A strike on one side only should prove the split occurred during the striking process, and the coin was ejected in two pieces, or broke in two later.

Richard Snivley, of Bryan, Ohio, writes in to tell readers that the scarce coins are still to be found: that he found a 1916-D dime not too long ago.

COMMENT: If you don't look, you don't find; and a lot of luck is needed to find, along with considerable patience. Good hunting!

Todd Eastin, Bettendorf, Iowa, wants to know what a "cracked skull" Lincoln cent is worth, on a 1960-D small date coin.

ANSWER: About 25 cents to 50 cents over normal value of the coin, in our opinion, depending on how obvious the crack is. If it needs a magnifier to show it, it is worth the least. In the end, it is worth what you can get for it. Watch the ads for such.

"I have shown it to several experts in the East," Peterson said, "and the general consensus seems to be that it is 'about unique.'"

"It has been quite a conversation piece at our club meetings," he added. Peterson is president of the New Bedford, Mass., Coin Club.

Hal Peterson's 1936 double struck Buffalo nickel. The coin is unusual because the date is shown twice.

Hal Peterson, of Mattapoisett, Mass., has an interesting mint error, a 1936 uncirculated Buffalo nickel.

The nickel is double struck in the Kolit position (one o'clock), and is unusual because the date is shown twice as a result.

Peterson explained that the coin was originally picked up in a New York subway in 1936—probably direct from a mint sewn bag—by

Siouxland Convention To Be Held In Iowa October 5-8

First annual Siouxland Coin Collectors' Association convention will be held in Sioux City, Iowa, at the Sheraton-Martin Hotel, October 5-8 with J. T. Alvey as general chairman and Ronald Schemmel, bourse chairman.

Alvey's address is 2401 Lakeport, Sioux City; Schemmel may be contacted by writing to 2424 South Cypress St., Sioux City.

More than 30 dealers have already reserved bourse space, according to Schemmel. There will be a three-part auction held at times so it will not conflict with the bourse table operation. A $5,000 sale with more than 1,200 lots is indicated.

The Siouxland group is less than seven months old. It was organized in January, and now has a membership of more than 100 with new members added each week.

"We feel it is an outstanding accomplishment on the part of the officers and directors to be able to present a convention of this scope at such an early stage," a spokesman for the membership said.

The group holds auctions twice monthly, growing from $40 to $950 in sales, with a lot of key coins offered in the last few sales.

G. C. Uhlir was re-elected president of the group at a recent meeting. David Dorfman, a Sioux City coin dealer, is vice president. Donald McIlcece and Lawrence Davis, secretary-treasurer and corresponding secretary, were both renamed to their posts.

Club Plans Fall Meeting

The Virginia Peninsula Coin Club, Newport News, Va., held its recent meeting at J. B.'s Restaurant, 10353 Warwick boulevard. Bob Schlegel, vice president, took charge of the meet in the absence of vacationing president Red Blount.

Among the matters discussed was the club's participation in the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association convention to be held at Fort Monroe, Va., on October 20, 21 and 22. Members are being asked to advertise in the MANA convention program.

Coins To Be Part Of Illinois Gun Show

Coins will be exhibited at the Midwest Gun Collectors Association Gun Show to be held at Exposition Gardens in Peoria, Ill. on August 26-27.

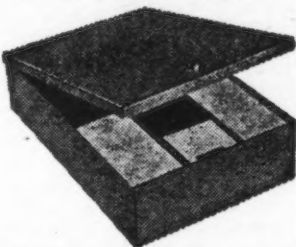

Robert W. Patton, association secretary, said that there will be enough numismatic exhibits to interest coin collectors.

Animals For Money

A full-grown cow or ox was in ancient times a very general standard of value in Ireland. It was used both in actual payment and in estimating amounts.

Perfect Banknotes, Assignats Recommended Collector's Items By New Paper Money Secretary

"Remember that it is far more important to have a few notes in your collection in perfect condition," cautioned the newly-organized International Bank Note Society's first quarterly Bulletin, "than it is to have a lot of notes in bad condition."

The Bulletin also stated that the assignat, a form of paper money used in France from 1789 to 1796, is still quite easy to obtain and costs little.

"They were so termed as representing land assigned to the holders," the article said, "and these little notes illustrate one of the most important phases of French history—when the guillotine was in use almost as commonly as the family bread-knife."

Colin C. Narbeth, Secretary of the Society, says that memberships are open at one guinea (approximately $3) per year. Members will receive the quarterly bulletin and will also be able to participate in regular mail bank-note auctions.

Narbeth can be contacted at "Mayfield," Kirby Road, Walton-on-Naze, Essex, England.

Dr. Walter M. Loeb, of 4568 E. Mercer Way, Mercer Island, Wash., is serving as the Society's pro tem president until regular officers can be elected by the membership early in 1962.

Norwegian Oslo Exhibit At University

Norway's number one numismatic collection is housed at the Universitetets Mynt Kabinett at the University of Oslo.

Over 170,000 numismatic items are included in the Mint Cabinet and there are approximately 3,200 volumes of related literature. The Cabinet also has a separate collection of orders and decorations.

The collection of coins is comprehensive—all periods and countries are represented, from the earliest Greek and Roman pieces to contemporary issues.

Several thousand coins are on public exhibition at all times, with sections of the exhibition being changed periodically.

Scholars from the University, as well as from the whole of Europe, continually employ the Mint Cabinet for research purposes.

The Mint Cabinet exhibition is open to the public every day from 12 p.m. to 3 p.m. with the exception of Christmas day, Easter Sunday, and Whitsun Sunday. University of Oslo is located at Fredriksgt 2.

Ohio Coin Club Picks Officers

Cleveland Stamping Plant Coin Club nominated the following members for office at their recent meeting: Lee Spencer, president; Don Schaffer, vice president; Clyde Ballew, secretary-treasurer.

Outgoing president Larry C. Stillion was nominated to a two-year term to the board of directors, along with Ford Boehringer. Jack Dempsey and T. W. Kasper were nominated to one-year terms to the board.

After the business session, Stillion displayed a trial piece in copper of an 1834 half-dollar, and an uncirculated Queen Elizabeth Coronation Crown.

Exhibit Idea Center Used By Evansville, Indiana, Club

Betty J. Klauss, secretary of the Evansville, Ind., Coin Club, put her talent as an artist to work when Dr. Charles F. Leich, the club president, asked for a club program specifically prepared to help potential exhibitors acquire some helpful hints in assembling their coin displays.

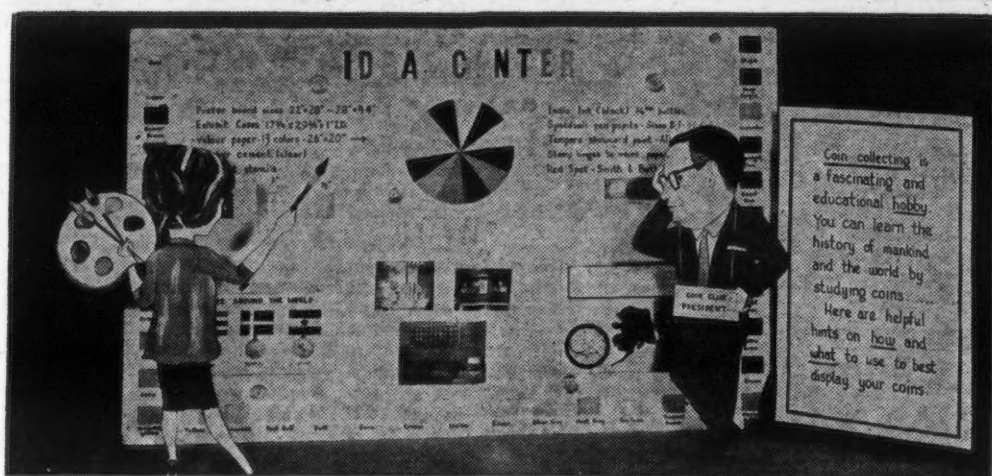

Artist Klauss designed an "Idea Center" and a talk to accompany it—centered on the supplies that are readily available to exhibitors.

Topics discussed included a color wheel or velour paper (paper with a velvet finish), all colors and sizes of poster board available, types of stencils and sizes, for easy printing, numbers and types of penpoints to give special effects.

She described types of ink and colors of paints easiest to use, size of American Numismatic Association display cases, several ideas for possible exhibits, color combinations for best display of certain metals and coins, and substances to use for easy mounting of coins and currency.

The Center included two 36-inch figurines, a likeness of President Leich and Artist Klauss' idea of

Evansville, Ind., Coin Club's "Idea Center."

It was used as a window display at the Central Library, along with several exhibits and coin books to publicize the club's recent convention.

"We are, of course," pleased that Admiral O. H. Dodson considered the 'Idea Center' sufficiently original and instructive to merit national recognition," said Designer Klauss.

"If our methods and ideas can be useful to other clubs throughout the nation, we are delighted to share them," she said.

Club Invites Vacationers

Coin collectors taking summer trips into Michigan have been issued a special invitation by the Wayne Y.M.C.A. Coin Club to attend its summer meetings, scheduled for the third Monday of each month at the "Y", 35006 Main street, Wayne, Mich., starting at 7:30 p.m.

Through the year, the Wayne club meets twice a month, on the first and third Mondays, with a social session the first meeting and business and an auction the other. During the summer, however, the social meeting is dropped.

At the last social meeting of the current season, a coin quiz program was held, with president Steven Roe acting as quiz master. The members enjoyed it enough to request that it be made a regular part of meeting programs.

A complete set of scrip issued by the Iowa City, Iowa, council in 1858. Each bill is signed by Mayor Morgan Reno and Recorder H. E. Brown. There was only one issue of this scrip, and all notes are dated January 1, 1858. The notes were printed by the Rawdon, Wright, Hatch and Edson Company of New York.

Everybody Got Into Act With Colorful Script

By Ted N. Weissbuch

Until the Civil War there was little control over the issuance of paper currency in the United States. As most numismatists know, federal regulations did not go into effect until the government began issuing its greenbacks.

First came the demand notes of 1861; the following year came the legal tender notes. Most states, especially those in the Midwest, did little to police or regulate the many pre-Civil War "wildcat banks" which flooded the country with sometimes worthless, and usually depreciated, currency.

Overspeculation in land and increasing trade and growing commercial activity made it necessary for merchants to seek relief from the worthless paper and primitive barter systems which flourished on a large scale. During this period everyone wanted to get into the act: counties, towns, merchants, and private companies, as well as "banks" issued their own colorful scrip. Whether these "promises to pay" were good depended entirely on the issuing agent.

Times were pronounced "hard" in Iowa City, Iowa, according to a newspaper account published in 1842. Complaints were common concerning the lack of circulating medium of sound nature, yet this area surrounding the new capital of the Territory of Iowa boasted of substantial progress and growth.

Concerning the money problem, the newspaper complained that "probably there is not in the whole country another community, the size of ours, where there is such an entire deficiency of circulating medium as here, or where so much difficulty is experienced in making payments and collecting accounts." Today a quiet college town of approximately 25,000, Iowa City was, during this pre-Civil War period, a thriving center of trade and commerce.

The currency which circulated freely in the city was mostly from surrounding states which had "free banking" systems. Although there had been a bank in Iowa, the Bank of Dubuque, its charter expired in 1845. From that time until 1858, there were no chartered banks in Iowa.

A study made in 1856 showed that there were more than three hundred "banks" with bills passing in the state. Most of these "wildcat notes" were issued from obscure, backwoods areas in Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, and especially Nebraska.

Under the act incorporating Iowa City, the council was empowered to issue "improvement bonds" on the vote of the electors authorizing such issue. The question was submitted and, after approval by the electors, twenty thousand dollars of such bonds were sold to William A. Buckingham, of Norwich, Conn., at a discount of five per cent and interest at ten per cent. This system of city scrip issues to help guarantee payment of city expenses became annoying to many cities.

The scrip issued by Iowa City on January 1, 1858 was in denominations of one, two, three, and five dollars. While the idea of the scrip was readily accepted, the paper money was not successful. After they circulated for only a short period, the bills were ordered to be collected and destroyed by a committee from the council. The council also gave detailed instructions as to the burning of the notes and required reports from the committee.

Each denomination was to be recorded and oath made by the committee as to the total amount destroyed. The mayor was also requested by the council to "get possession" of the plates used by the Rawdon, Wright, Hatch and Edson Company of New York when the notes were printed.

When secured, the plates were also to be destroyed.

Attempts to retire the Iowa City scrip were not entirely successful. The city financial report for August, 1858 showed that almost $15,000 in scrip was still outstanding. This amount, plus more than $8,000 in interest past due on bonds, and another $70,000 in railroad and school bonds held against the city gave it a then-staggering debt of almost $100,000. Many citizens suggested that the city charter be done away with, thus repudiating the debts. However, the city managed to survive through its financial difficulties.

The coming of the Civil War and the passage of federal laws put an end to this type of scrip. Today these historically and numismatically interesting notes offer an interesting commentary on the days when everyone wanted to get into the act.

Committees To Be Selected

Committees will be chosen to carry on the activities of the club, at the second meeting of the Hobart, Ind., Coin Club, formed in June, scheduled for Sunday, July 16, at the Hobart Federal Savings and Loan building, on Third Street, starting at 2 p.m.

At the first session, Bruce E. Fessler of Hobart was elected president, with Arthur Howard, Crown Point, chosen vice president. Donna Fessler was elected secretary, and Emil Uremovich, Hobart, junior vice president.

Some 50 persons attended the first meeting, with 37 signing up for membership.

40,000 Nickels Sorted In Kans.

The Wichita, Kansas, Coin Club was scheduled to hold its July meeting on Wednesday, July 12, on the 8th floor of the County Courthouse, starting at 7:30 p.m., according to a report from secretary Harold Fortney.

At the last session, former president Howard Spore, reported on a Jefferson nickel survey he had recently made, in which he had checked over 40,000 coins in two months. His report summed up was that few coins of "real value" could be found, even in that quantity.

New Club President

Mrs. Lucile Snyder has been chosen president of the newly organized North Boroughs Coin Club of Pittsburgh, Pa. The club plans to meet the last Monday of each month. Information regarding time and place will be announced.

Banquet July 13

Members of the Cedar Falls and Waterloo, Iowa, coin clubs were scheduled to hold a joint banquet on Thursday, July 13, at the Chesterfield Club. In charge were Andy Idso and Duane Heisterkamp of Cedar Falls, and Cecil Lauterbach of Waterloo.

Pesos In Philippines

Spanish and Mexican silver pesos were used almost exclusively in the Philippine Islands before the Spanish-American war in 1898.

LOOKING FOR THAT CERTAIN COIN??

An excellent way to find it is to send me your want list, and let me price the ones you need in the grade you need them. Or you might like my approval service. If you can spend $10.00 or more a month on your collection, just send me a list of the coins you need, the grade, and the amount you'd like to spend a month. I'll send you a selection of which you keep the ones that please you, remit promptly, and in another month, you'll receive another selection.

1956 FARTHING

This is the one everyone's talking about. The last year of issue—very few minted with most melted down—lowest mintage of the 20th Century—almost none in circulation. A natural key coin. Penn-Ohio is an association of coin club members in Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Caddy says that Lake Front No. 2 has been reserved for Penn-Ohio and that directional signs will be posted.

There will be free hot coffee, cold drinks, and ice cream, and half-fare amusement rides. Boating and swimming facilities will also be available.

Penn-Ohio sponsors three annual events, a spring show, the summer picnic, and a fall convention each year.

Further picnic information may be obtained by writing to Miss Caddy at 3528 E. 76 street, Cleveland 5, Ohio.

General Chairman James Pet-show says that full security will be in force from noon, Thursday, until released Sunday night. All dealers and exhibitors planning on entering bourse tables or exhibits, having any questions, can contact him at P. O. Box 53C, Woodburn, Oregon.

The Oregon Numismatic Society will celebrate their 25th birthday this fall and have a nationwide reputation for putting on outstanding shows. The "Coin Fair" will be no exception.

Honorary Chairmen for the event are Richard Bailey, president of the Oregon Numismatic Society, and Richard Van Pelt Sr., president of Salem Numismatic Society.

Some of the extras to look forward to at the "Coin Fair" are door prizes, special lounge where collectors can relax, outdoor auction, free rodeo, and the added thrills of a county fair.

Reach the MOSTEST collectors for the LEASTEST cost! Use a Coin World Weekly Ad Contract!

Sharpen Your Pencil . . .
COMPARE CONTRACT AD RATES!

Here is a typical example of the advantages in using a low-cost WEEKLY advertising contract: Dealer John Jones runs 3 quarter-page ads within three months, each at the one-time rate. His total cost for the three ads is $153.00.

Dealer Henry Smith has used his sharp pencil and compared the contract ad rates. Result . . . he has a 52 week advertising contract! In the same three months, he has inserted 3 quarter-page ads and 13 Classified Display one-inch "rate-holder" ads — a total of 16 ads at a total cost of $152.75. Which dealer got the most mileage from his advertising dollar?

Dealer Smith knows that, with his 52-week ad contract with a minimum of his one inch "rate holder" ad appearing EVERY WEEK, he can run a quarter-page ad, a half-page ad or even a full page ad at the lowest ad rates for these sized ads in any coin newspaper! He also knows that he gets the added premium of the WORLD'S LARGEST PAID CIRCULATION among ready-to-buy coin collectors in the United States and Canada.

Dealer Smith has been busy every week "talking" to more than 65,000 collectors . . . identifying himself with a particular branch of numismatics. Dealer Jones has been content to speak up only three times. Which dealer gets more business from collectors? Whose name is mentioned at coin club meetings?

Any way you figure it, YOUR BEST BUY is a Coin World WEEKLY advertising contract! You get MORE SPACE to reach MORE COLLECTORS for FEWER DOLLARS!

May 10th, today, I received my copy of May 11th issue of Coin World and on page 41; story reads: "Albuquerque Bad Luck Club". My letters written to our coin publications in the past has in no way meant to imply this story as published.

Pleas had appeared for secretaries of the clubs to send in club news, officers' names and addresses. I tried to comply at a rather late date when I found out you still didn't have our latest official list.

1)—We have never been without a president? True, Roland O'Rimble was elected as president for '60-'61. Upon his death, our vice president automatically became our president. We did not need an election to elevate her.

2)—My carbon copy of March 12, 1960, letter regarding Fitz breaking her leg and being in cast reads in part: "We of the club expect that Mrs. Fitz will try to make it to our next gathering the still in a cast and using crutches." Mrs. Fitz was present, Mrs. Fitz carried on all her duties. She never missed a meeting. Who informed you we were without a president? Mrs. Fitz did much more than the duties of president while in her cast and on her crutches. She did several hours of work which should have been the secretary's duties.

3)—I specifically called attention to the fact we do not have a permanent club house, or meeting place because in your publications at times you stated we were to meet at such and such place for our next meeting. This was not the case, as my letters merely stated where we met that specific night.

4)—BAD LUCK CLUB.....no! We are a 'Lucky Coin Club'. We are very grateful to the different firms, banks, schools, etc., who so graciously provide us with convenient facilities for our meeting.

5)—Mrs. Fitz by unanimous voted would again be the president for '61-'62 but she refused to accept this position.

I trust others writing you in the future have better success in being understood.

Miss Opal C. Johnson
Albuquerque, N. M.

Your publication may have its faults but DRAWING power is not one of them.

I recently placed an ad reading "Beginner Wants" swap pals, etc. I got as high as 17 answers in one day from that ad and it ran three weeks. I have been so swamped with answers that I'm over a week behind in my replies, and it is down right embarrassing. Wish I could prevail upon you to print a front page apology for me.

Issue of 6-9-61, page 46, ad of W. J. Conklin: Isn't this going a bit too far?

George L. Freese

Thank you for running the story of the theft of my political button collection while attending the Penn-Ohio convention at Pittsburgh. That very story just might be responsible for the return of or part of my collection at some future date.

Frank Chittick
Youngstown, Ohio

When a skin of gold, thicker than paper, is glued, welded or attached any other way to an object, it is called gold filled. That filling can be solid too, unless it is made of several layers.

Gold plating is a layer ranging from 1/1000th of an inch down to 1/500,000, so thin it will wear off if you look at it too long. It is measured in microns which are exactly 1/25400"; 1/20 18k means 1/20th micron of 18 karats, or 1/508 000th of 1/4 gold. Not enough to purchase one hair with it, but it looks brilliant. Even that may or may not be "solid".

Just for information, 16.45 karats of gold & copper is almost 50 per cent of each by volume, not by weight, and famous electrum is an 18k alloy of gold & silver, beautiful and expensive.

May 10th, today, I received my copy of May 11th issue of Coin World and on page 41: story reads: "Albuquerque Bad Luck Club". My letters written to our coin publications in the past has in no way meant to imply this story as published.

Pleas had appeared for secretaries of the clubs to send in club news, officers' names and addresses. I tried to comply at a rather late date when I found out you still didn't have our latest official list.

1)—We have never been without a president? True, Roland O'Rimble was elected as president for '60-'61. Upon his death, our vice president automatically became our president. We did not need an election to elevate her.

2)—My carbon copy of March 12, 1960, letter regarding Fitz breaking her leg and being in cast reads in part: "We of the club expect that Mrs. Fitz will try to make it to our next gathering tho still in a cast and using crutches." Mrs. Fitz was present, Mrs. Fitz carried on all her duties. She never missed a meeting. Who informed you we were without a president? Mrs. Fitz did much more than the duties of president while in her cast and on her crutches. She did several hours of work which should have been the secretary's duties.

3)—I specifically called attention to the fact we do not have a permanent club house, or meeting place because in your publications at times you stated we were to meet at such and such place for our next meeting. This was not the case, as my letters merely stated where we met that specific night.

4)—BAD LUCK CLUB.....no! We are a 'Lucky Coin Club'. We are very grateful to the different firms, banks, schools, etc., who so graciously provide us with convenient facilities for our meeting.

5)—Mrs. Fitz by unanimous voted would again be the president for '61-'62 but she refused to accept this position.

I trust others writing you in the future have better success in being understood.

Miss Opal C. Johnson

Your publication may have its faults but DRAWING power is not one of them.

I recently placed an ad reading "Beginner Wants" swap pals, etc. I got as high as 17 answers in one day from that ad and it ran three weeks. I have been so swamped with answers that I'm over a week behind in my replies, and it is down right embarrassing. Wish I could prevail upon you to print a front page apology for me.

Thank you for running the story of the theft of my political button collection while attending the Penn-Ohio convention at Pittsburgh. That very story just might be responsible for the return of or part of my collection at some future date.

When a skin of gold, thicker than paper, is glued, welded or attached any other way to an object, it is called gold filled. That filling can be solid too, unless it is made of several layers.

Gold plating is a layer ranging from 1/1000th of an inch down to 1/500,000, so thin it will wear off if you look at it too long. It is measured in microns which are exactly 1/25400"; 1/20 18k means 1/20th micron of 18 karats, or 1/508 000th of 1/2 gold. Not enough to purchase one hair with it, but it looks brilliant. Even that may or may not be "solid".

Just for information, 16.45 karats of gold & copper is almost
